1 Executive Summary

- 1.1 This report tests the ability of a range of development types throughout the London Borough of Southwark ('LBS') to viably meet planning policy requirements of the New Southwark Plan ('NSP') Proposed Submission Version (November 2017). The study tests the cumulative impact of the emerging draft policies, focusing in particular on the housing policies, in line with the requirements of the National Planning Policy Framework ('NPPF') and the Local Housing Delivery Group guidance 'Viability Testing Local Plans: Advice for planning practitioners' (June 2012).
- 1.2 This study provides an update to the September 2015 New Southwark Plan Evidence Base: Housing Policy Viability Study ('2015 Viability Study') produced by BNP Paribas Real Estate on behalf of the Council, published in October 2015.

Methodology

- 1.3 The study adopts the same methodology as that in the 2015 Viability Study, in that it compares the residual land values of a range of development typologies on sites throughout the LBS to their value in current use (plus a premium), herein after referred to as 'benchmark land value'. If a development incorporating the emerging NSP policy requirements generates a higher residual land value than the benchmark land value, then it can be judged that these policy requirements will not adversely impact upon viability.
- 1.4 The study utilises the residual land value method of calculating the value of each development. This method is used by developers when determining how much to bid for land and involves calculating the value of the completed scheme and deducting development costs (construction, fees, finance, CIL and S106) and developer's profit. The residual amount is the sum left after these costs have been deducted from the value of the development, and guides a developer in determining an appropriate offer price for the site.
- 1.5 The housing and commercial property markets are inherently cyclical and the Council is undertaking this viability assessment at a time when the market has recovered from the severe recession but there is a degree of uncertainty due to the result of the EU referendum and the commencement of negotiations to leave the EU following the triggering of Article 50. Notwithstanding this, residential values have improved significantly in the LBS since the recession and in June 2011 surpassed their December 2007 peak levels. The Land Registry's online database identifies that residential values are currently 71%<sup>1</sup> higher than the peak of the market values.
- 1.6 Forecasts for the medium term predict growth in mainstream London markets. In this regard we have tested the impact of this by running a sensitivity analysis which varies the base sales values and build costs, with values increasing by 10%, accompanied by cost inflation of 5%. This analysis is indicative only, but is intended to assist the Council in understanding the ability of developments to absorb its requirements both in today's terms but also in the future.
- 1.7 The viability analysis in this study provides a high level understanding of the viability of potential development sites in the context of the cumulative impact of the Council's emerging planning policies. It should be noted that some sites may require more detailed site and scheme specific viability analysis when they come forward through the development management process.

Key findings and recommendations

1.8 The key findings of the study are as follows:

- The results of this update study are reflective of current market conditions, which are likely to improve over the medium term, which is likely to lead to improving development viability. It is therefore important that the Council keeps the viability situation under review so that any policy requirements can be made and adjusted to reflect any future changes.
- Some development typologies tested were unviable in certain circumstances due to market factors, rather than the impact of the Council's proposed policy requirements and standards. In particular it tends to be in relation to the high benchmark land values. These schemes are identified in the appraisals as being unviable at 0% affordable housing. These schemes will not come forward until changes in market conditions i.e. an improvement in sales values by comparison to build costs and the development value vs the existing use and competing uses for the site. In this regard their current unviable status should not be taken as an indication that the Council's requirements cannot be accommodated.

Affordable Housing

- The testing has demonstrated that the Council's Policy DM1 requirement of 35% affordable housing remains a reasonable requirement across all developments in the LBS. Some schemes (subject to their benchmark land values) are able to achieve higher amounts of affordable housing (50% affordable housing). As can be expected however, some schemes are also identified as having challenging viability. However, the Council's flexible approach in their policy i.e. that the provision will be subject to viability, will assist with both development viability and ensuring the delivery of the maximum quantum of viable affordable housing. Considering the results of this assessment holistically and considering the Council's preference for social rented accommodation, we recommend that the current requirement of 35% is maintained.
- In light of the results we consider that there is no need for the Council to adopt a sliding scale of affordable housing for units between 11 to 15 units, and that the Council's flexible policy approach allowing for viability will be sufficient to assist schemes where due to site specific circumstances they are unable to deliver 35% affordable housing.
- The sensitivity testing of affordable housing tenures as part of this assessment has identified that the Council's Policy DM1 approach of seeking 25% social rent to 10% intermediate (71%:29%) across the majority of the LBS can be delivered in a number of the scenarios tested. Further, the results identify that viability can be seen to improve marginally when London Affordable Rent ('LAR') is sought in place of Borough calculated social rent (of up to circa 5%). Given this position and that the Council has an identified a need for social rented housing in the we consider that the emerging NSP's policy approach of requiring rented affordable housing to be delivered as Borough calculated social rents as a priority is reasonable.
- Our assessment of shared ownership accommodation has identified that viability improves with increasing income thresholds from the Council's identified thresholds to the GLA's thresholds. However, this is seen to be only a marginal improvement in viability given that intermediate units make up a small part of the affordable housing offer (circa 29%).
- Our testing of schemes with the inclusion of London Living Rent ('LLR') in place of shared ownership is seen to have a limited impact on the viability in schemes where shared ownership values are based on the Council's lower income thresholds. Shared ownership at the GLA's income thresholds is identified as being more viable than LLR.

- As with the Council's approach to LAR, we consider that allowing the Higher GLA thresholds on intermediate units in exceptional circumstances to be reasonable. This is particularly given the context that this can be seen to improve viability by circa 5% in some schemes.
- Given the above, for schemes where viability is identified as being particularly challenging, the combination of allowing all or some of the following may assist the Council in achieving more affordable housing:
  - the inclusion of LAR units in place of social rent;
  - flexibility in the tenure split to allow a larger proportion of intermediate units; and
  - increasing the income thresholds.

Private Rental Sector ('PRS')

- This study has considered the ability for PRS schemes to deliver affordable housing. We have updated our appraisals undertaken in the 2015 Viability Study assuming the developer will retain the PRS investment. Our testing has identified that, much like conventional housing schemes, PRS developments can in most instances viably deliver affordable housing and some instances dependant on the rental values achieved, benchmark land value and tenure of affordable housing secured can secure more than 35% affordable housing. In this regard we consider that the Council's emerging NSP Policy DM4 affordable housing requirements, which seeks a minimum of 35% affordable housing when delivered as discount market rent units subject to viability, will suitably allow schemes to come forward allowing for site specific issues whilst ensuring the maximum reasonable quantum of affordable housing is delivered.

Student Accommodation

- With respect to student accommodation, the study has identified that in line with the requirements of the NSP Policy DM22, direct let/private student housing can accommodate affordable housing to varying degrees with some schemes able to support at least 35% affordable housing as well as up to 27% of units as affordable student accommodation as suggested by the London Plan and defined by The Mayor's 'Draft Interim Housing Supplementary Planning Guidance' (May 2015) as updated by the London Plan Annual Monitoring Report 13 2015/16 (July 2017). Our testing has highlighted that such schemes are sensitive to changes in inputs, such as tenancy lengths and rents and in this regard we recommend that the Council applies their emerging policy flexibly i.e. subject to viability.
- Our testing of nomination schemes/schemes let by universities at low rental levels and on shorter tenancies has identified that such schemes are unable to support much conventional affordable housing (up to circa 5% depending on the benchmark land value of the site).

Mixed Use Schemes

- This study has demonstrated that schemes can viably provide commercial floorspace within developments in the LBS along with other policy requirements including affordable housing. However, the degree to which this can be accommodated will differ from site to site and scheme to scheme. On this basis we consider that the emerging NSP Policy DM24, which requires applicants to provide evidence of lack of demand for floorspace and viability evidence where proposed schemes cannot provide replacement commercial floorspace, will provide suitable flexibility to ensure that appropriate development, providing a suitable mix of uses to support the identified needs of the LBS, comes forward.
- This study demonstrates that the Council's flexible approach to applying its policy requirements, will ensure an appropriate balance between delivering affordable housing, sustainability objectives, necessary infrastructure and the need for landowners and developers to achieve competitive returns, as required by the NPPF. Maintaining this approach will lighten the 'scale of obligations and policy burdens' (para 174 of the NPPF) to ensure that sites are, as far as possible, able to be developed viably and thus facilitate the growth envisaged by the Council's plans throughout the economic cycle without jeopardising the delivery of the New Southwark Plan.

2 Introduction

- 2.1 In June 2017 the London Borough of Southwark ('the Council') consulted on the New Southwark Plan Preferred Option: New and Amended Policies. This interim version of the New Southwark Plan incorporates a revised approach to a number of policies. Given this position, the Council commissioned BNP Paribas Real Estate to undertake an update to the assessment of the viability of the delivery of the housing policies in the emerging New Southwark Plan to account for the changes to the Council's proposed policy framework. This is in accordance with paragraphs 173 and 175 of the National Planning Policy Framework (2011) ('NPPF') and the National Planning Practice Guidance (2014) ('NPPG'). This work provides an update to the work undertaken in the 2015 Viability Study and both documents will be used as part of the evidence base underpinning the emerging NSP.
- 2.2 In terms of methodology, we have adopted standard residual valuation approaches to test the impact on viability of the emerging draft NSP policies, which is in line with the earlier policy testing underpinning the NSP. However, due to the extent and range of financial variables involved in residual valuations, they can only ever serve as a guide. Individual site characteristics (which are unique), mean that conclusions must always be tempered by a level of flexibility in application of policy requirements on a site by site basis to allow schemes to come forward in the context of their site specific variations.
- 2.3 In light of the above, we would highlight that the purpose of this viability study is to support the Council's emerging policies through Examination in Public by providing evidence to show that the requirements set out within the NPPF are met. That is, that the policy requirements for development set out within the plan do not threaten the ability of the sites and scale of that development to be developed viably.
- 2.4 As an area wide study this assessment makes overall judgements as to viability in the LBS area and does not account for individual site circumstances and in this regard should not be relied upon for individual site applications.
- 2.5 This is recognised within Section 2 of the Local Housing Delivery Group guidance, which identifies the Purpose and role of viability assessments within plan-making. This identifies that: "The role of the test is not to give a precise answer as to the viability of every development likely to take place during the plan period. No assessment could realistically provide this level of detail. Some site-specific tests are still likely to be required at the development management stage. Rather, it is to provide high level assurance that the policies within the plan are set in a way that is compatible with the likely economic viability of development needed to deliver the plan."

3 Key policy changes

Preferred Option: New and Amended Policies

- 3.1 As previously identified In June 2017 the Council consulted on the New Southwark Plan Preferred Option: New and Amended Policies. This interim version of the New Southwark Plan incorporated a revised approach to a number of policies in particular:
- Policy DM1: Affordable Homes – which seeks a minimum of 35% affordable homes on developments providing 11 or more homes, subject to viability. Of this 35%, a minimum of 25% (71%) must be for social rented homes and up to 10% (29%) is to be intermediate. In the Aylesbury Area Action Plan area, the target already set is a minimum of 50% affordable housing of which a minimum of 37.5% (75%) is to be social rented homes and a minimum of 12.5% (25%) is to be intermediate homes. For developments of 10 homes or fewer, a financial contribution towards the delivery of new council homes will be sought.
  - Policy DM4: Private Rented Homes – this sets out that PRS developments must provide affordable homes in accordance with DM1 or provide at least 35% affordable discount market rent homes, subject to viability, of which a minimum of 12% (34%) should be a social rent equivalent, a minimum of 18% (52%) should be Affordable Rent capped at London Living Rent equivalent and a minimum of 5% (14%) should be Affordable Rent for household incomes of between £60,000 and £90,000 per year.
  - Policy DM22: Student Homes – seeks 35% of gross internal area of schemes providing direct let student rooms at market rents as conventional affordable housing and 27% of student rooms let at a rent that is affordable to students. For schemes providing affordable housing for nominated further and higher institutions as much conventional affordable housing as is viable.
- 3.2 This study also takes into consideration the cost implications associated with design standards as set out in both the emerging NSP and the adopted London Plan. In particular considering LBS' requirements for lifetime homes (Policy SP7: Social Regeneration), access standards, water efficiency and car parking and electric vehicle charging (Policy DM48: Car Parking).

Southwark CIL

- 3.1 The Council adopted its original CIL Charging Schedule on 1 April 2015. This set out a range of charges for different development types and in some instances geographical locations within the LBS. The Council has since revised it's charging schedule to ensure that the council can secure sufficient funding for infrastructure in particular to support growth in the Old Kent Road Opportunity Area ('OKROA'), including the Bakerloo Line extension in the Old Kent Road area. The revision includes amending the boundary between CIL Zones 2 and 3 so the whole of the OKROA falls within Zone 2 and formally setting the CIL rates at the indexed levels as specified by Regulation 40 of the CIL Regulations (as amended).
- 3.2 The Revised CIL Charging Schedule was examined in July 2017 with the Examiner concluding in his report dated August 2017 that the Charging Schedule provides an appropriate basis for the collection of the levy in the LBS subject to one very minor modification pertaining to the zone maps. The Council has reported the Revised CIL Charging Schedule to cabinet on 31 October 2017 and is due to report the Council Assembly on 29 November 2017. Subject to the approval by the Council Assembly the Council plans to bring the Revised Charging Schedule into effect on 1 December 2017.
- 3.3 The pertinent charges to this study are as set out in Table 3.3.1 below. We have undertaken the base viability testing assuming an allowance of 20% existing floorspace is eligible for discount. This is in line with the findings and assumptions adopted in the Council's recent CIL viability study.

Use	Zone	CIL Rate per sq. m
Office	Zone 1 Zones 2-3	£76 £0
Residential	Zone 1 Zone 2 Zone 3	£435 £218 £54
Student Housing (assuming direct let – market rent levels)	Zones 1-3	£109
All retail (A1-A5 & Sui Generis uses akin to retail)	Zones 1-3	£136
Town centre car parking	Zones 1-3	£0
Industrial and warehousing	Zones 1-3	£0
Public libraries, health, education	Zones 1-3	£0
All other uses	Zones 1-3	£0

Mayoral CIL

- 3.4 Southwark falls within Mayoral CIL Zone 2, where at present a Mayoral CIL charge of £35 per square metre (unindexed) is levied. In addition, the Crossrail and Mayoral CIL SPG identifies that in particular locations, where appropriate, the Mayor could negotiate Section 106 contributions over and above the Mayoral CIL towards Crossrail, dependant on the size and impact of the development and viability issues. Part of the north of the borough is located within the GLA's Central London designation liable for S106 contributions towards Crossrail.
- 3.5 We note that the Mayor published the Mayor of London Community Infrastructure Levy 2 Preliminary Draft Charging Schedule (MCIL2 PDCS) on 26 June 2017 for consultation until 7 August 2017. The Mayor intends that from April 2019 MCIL2 will supersede the current Mayor's CIL (MCIL1) and the associated planning obligation/S.106 charge scheme applicable in central London and the northern part of the Isle of Dogs. MCIL1 contributes to funding for Crossrail. MCIL2 will be used to contribute to funding for Crossrail 2.
- 3.6 The Mayor's MCIL2 PDCS identifies Southwark to be within Zone 2 as well as being subject to higher charges for office, retail and hotel uses in the north of the Borough. We set out the applicable charges in table 3.6.1 below.

Table 3.6.1 MCIL2 Preliminary Draft CIL Charging Schedule

Use	CIL Rate per sq. m
All uses (except for the proposed rates for office, retail and hotel in Central London and for health and education)	£60
Office in central London area	£185
Retail in central London area	£165
Hotel in central London area	£140

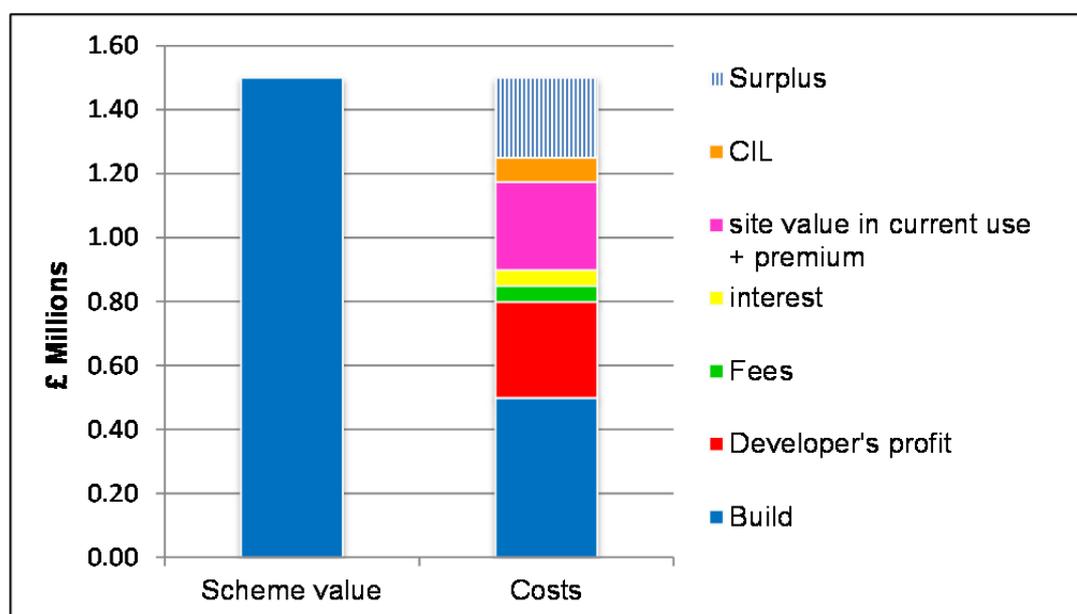

- 3.7 In light of this, this study accordingly takes into consideration the increased cost to development associated with the MCIL2.

4 Methodology

- 4.1 Our methodology follows standard development appraisal conventions, using assumptions that reflect local market and planning policy circumstances. The study is therefore specific to Southwark and reflects the Council's planning policy requirements.

Approach to testing development viability

- 4.2 Appraisal models can be summarised via the following diagram. The total scheme value is calculated, as represented by the left hand bar. This includes the sales receipts from the private housing and the payment from a Registered Provider ('RP') for the completed affordable housing units. For a commercial scheme, scheme value equates to the capital value of the rental income. The model then deducts the build costs, fees, interest, Section 106 contributions and developer's profit. A 'residual' amount is left after all these costs are deducted – this is the land value that the Developer would pay to the landowner. The residual land value is represented by the red portion of the right hand bar in the diagram.

- 4.3 The Residual Land Value is normally a key variable in determining whether a scheme will proceed. If a proposal generates sufficient positive land value (in excess of existing use value), it will be implemented. If not, the proposal will not go ahead, unless there are alternative funding sources to bridge the 'gap'.
- 4.4 Problems with key appraisal variables can be summarised as follows:
- Development costs are subject to national and local monitoring and can be reasonably accurately assessed in 'normal' circumstances. In boroughs like Southwark, many sites will be previously developed. These sites can sometimes encounter 'exceptional' costs such as decontamination. Such costs can be very difficult to anticipate before detailed site surveys are undertaken;
  - Development value and costs will also be significantly affected by assumptions about the nature and type of affordable housing provision and other Planning Obligations. In addition, on major projects, assumptions about development phasing; and infrastructure required to facilitate each phase of the development will affect residual values. Where the delivery of the obligations are deferred, the less the real cost to the applicant (and the greater the scope for increased affordable housing and other planning obligations). This is because the interest cost is reduced if the costs are incurred later in the development cashflow; and

- While Developer's Profit has to be assumed in any appraisal, its level is closely correlated with risk. The greater the risk, the higher the profit level required by lenders. While profit levels were typically up to around 15% of completed development value at the peak of the market in 2007, banks currently require schemes to show a higher profit to reflect the current risk. Typically developers and banks are targeting around 17% to 20% profit on gross development value generated by private elements (GDV) or cost. We noted in the LB Southwark CIL Viability Update report produced in November 2014 that there was market sentiment that given the improvement in the market over the last few years that targeted profit margins have moved in. This was supported by a letter from the District Valuer's Service (DVS), who undertake the majority of the Council's site specific viability assessments for planning applications. In their letter they commented that:
  - "We have never accepted a profit level in excess of 20% of value
  - Typically over the last 18 months we have assessed profit on value in the order of 17.5%
  - As an alternative, sometimes we have assessed scheme profit on cost and typically in the order of 20%
  - The exact % will vary from scheme to scheme"

We appreciate that following the result of the EU referendum and the commencement of negotiations to leave the EU following the triggering of Article 50, the market has started to reflect increased uncertainty through levels of profit at the higher end of this range. However, as identified above the exact profit level will differ from scheme to scheme and will be dependent on the view of the market in that location. Southwark's market continues to perform well with strong interest and development activity from developers and good demand and sales.

- 4.5 Ultimately, the landowner will make a decision on implementing a project on the basis of return and the potential for market change, and whether alternative developments might yield a higher value. The landowner's 'bottom line' will be achieving a residual land value that sufficiently exceeds 'existing use value'<sup>2</sup> or another appropriate benchmark to make development worthwhile i.e. provides a 'competitive return' (Para 173 NPPF). The margin above existing use value may be considerably different on individual sites, where there might be particular reasons why the premium to the landowner should be lower or higher than other sites.
- 4.6 Clearly, however, landowners have expectations of the value of their land which often exceed the value of the current use. Ultimately, if landowners' expectations are not met, they will not voluntarily sell their land and (unless a Local Authority is prepared to use its compulsory purchase powers) some may simply hold on to their sites, in the hope that its policy may change at some future point with reduced requirements. It is within the scope of those expectations that developers have to formulate their offers for sites. The task of formulating an offer for a site is complicated further still during buoyant land markets, where developers have to compete with other developers to secure a site, often speculating on increases in value. However, landowner expectations and speculation on land values need to be balanced against the legitimate needs of communities which will accommodate new development, including the provision of affordable homes and infrastructure to support new residents.

<sup>2</sup> For the purposes of this report, existing use value is defined as the value of the site in its existing use, assuming that it remains in that use. We are not referring the RICS Valuation Standards definition of 'Existing Use Value'.

Viability benchmark

- 4.7 The NPPF is not prescriptive on the type of methodology local planning authorities should use when assessing viability. The National Planning Practice Guidance indicates that the NPPF requirement for a ‘competitive return’ to the landowner will need to allow for an incentive for the land owner to sell and options may include “the current use value of the land or its value for a realistic alternative use that complies with planning policy” (Para 024; reference ID 10-024-20140306).
- 4.8 The Local Housing Delivery Group published guidance<sup>3</sup> in June 2012 which provides guidance on testing viability of Local Plan policies. The guidance notes that “consideration of an appropriate Threshold Land Value [or viability benchmark] needs to take account of the fact that future plan policy requirements will have an impact on land values and landowner expectations. Therefore, using a market value approach as the starting point carries the risk of building-in assumptions of current policy costs rather than helping to inform the potential for future policy”.
- 4.9 In light of the weaknesses in the market value approach, the Local Housing Delivery Group guidance recommends that benchmark land value “is based on a premium over current use values” with the “precise figure that should be used as an appropriate premium above current use value [being] determined locally”. The guidance considers that this approach “is in line with reference in the NPPF to take account of a “competitive return” to a willing land owner”.
- 4.10 The examination on the Mayor of London’s CIL charging schedule considered the issue of an appropriate land value benchmark. The Mayor had adopted existing use value, while certain objectors suggested that ‘Market Value’ was a more appropriate benchmark. The Examiner concluded that:
- “The market value approach... while offering certainty on the price paid for a development site, suffers from being based on prices agreed in an historic policy context.” (Para 8) and that “I don’t believe that the EUV approach can be accurately described as fundamentally flawed or that this examination should be adjourned to allow work based on the market approach to be done” (Para 9).*
- 4.11 In his concluding remark, the Examiner pointed out that:
- “the price paid for development land may be reduced [so that CIL may be accommodated]. As with profit levels there may be cries that this is unrealistic, but a reduction in development land value is an inherent part of the CIL concept. It may be argued that such a reduction may be all very well in the medium to long term but it is impossible in the short term because of the price already paid/agreed for development land. The difficulty with that argument is that if accepted the prospect of raising funds for infrastructure would be forever receding into the future. In any event in some instances it may be possible for contracts and options to be re-negotiated in the light of the changed circumstances arising from the imposition of CIL charges. (Para 32 – emphasis added).*
- 4.12 It is important to stress, therefore, that there is no single threshold land value at which land will come forward for development. The decision to bring land forward will depend on the type of owner and, in particular, whether the owner occupies the site or holds it as an asset; the strength of demand for the site’s current use in comparison to others; how offers received compare to the owner’s perception of the value of the site, which in turn is influenced by prices achieved by other sites. Given the lack of a single threshold land value, it is difficult for policy makers to determine the minimum land value that sites should achieve. This will ultimately be a matter of judgement for each planning authority.

<sup>3</sup> Viability Testing Local Plans: Advice for planning practitioners, Local Housing Delivery Group, Chaired by Sir John Harman, June 2012

- 4.13 Respondents to consultations on planning policy documents in LBS and other local planning authorities in and out of London have made various references to the RICS Guidance on 'Viability in Planning' and have suggested that councils should run their analysis on market values. This would be an extremely misleading measure against which to test viability, as market values should reflect existing policies already in place, and would consequently tell us nothing as to how future (as yet un-adopted) policies might impact on viability. It has been widely accepted elsewhere that market values are inappropriate for testing planning policy requirements.
- 4.14 Notably Paragraph 18 of the GLA's adopted Affordable Housing and Viability SPG (August 2017) clearly states that:
- "The SPG is explicit about the Mayor's preference for using Existing Use Value Plus as the comparable Benchmark Land Value when assessing the viability of a proposal. The premium above Existing Use Value will be based on site specific justification reflecting the circumstances that apply."*
- 4.15 Paragraph 3.40 goes on to reiterate the NPPG's position that "in all cases, land or site value should: reflect policy requirements and planning obligations and, where applicable, any Community Infrastructure Levy charge". Paragraph 3.41 goes on to explain that this is a "key requirement" as assuming that the granting of planning permission will increase the value of the site, but not including the costs of meeting planning requirements will result in an overinflated site value, contrary to the NPPG. The SPG goes on to identify in the next paragraph (3.42) that,
- "It is for this reason that the Mayor does not consider it appropriate within a development appraisal to apply a fixed land value as an input which is based on price paid for land or a purely aspirational sum sought by a landowner. Land transactions reflect the specific circumstances of the developer whereas planning viability appraisals are typically undertaken on a standardised basis. Reliance on land transactions for sites that are not genuinely comparable or that are based on assumptions of low affordable housing delivery, excess densities or predicted value growth, may lead to inflated site values. This undermines the implementation of Development Plan policies and the ability of planning authorities to deliver sustainable development."*
- 4.16 Relying upon historic transactions is a fundamentally flawed approach, as offers for these sites will have been framed in the context of current planning policy requirements, so an exercise using these transactions as a benchmark would tell the Council nothing about the potential for sites to absorb as yet unadopted policies. Various Local Plan inspectors and CIL examiners have accepted the key point that Local Plan policies and CIL will ultimately result in a reduction in land values, so benchmarks must consider a reasonable minimum threshold which landowners will accept. For local authority areas such as the LBS, the 'bottom line' in terms of land value will be the value of the site in its existing use. This fundamental point is recognised by the RICS at paragraph 3.4.4. of its Guidance Note on "Financial Viability in Planning":
- "For a development to be financially viable, any uplift from current use value to residual land value that arises when planning permission is granted should be able to meet the cost of planning obligations while ensuring an appropriate Site Value for the landowner and a market risk adjusted return to the developer in delivering that project (the NPPF refers to this as 'competitive returns' respectively). The return to the landowner will be in the form of a land value in excess of current use value"*.
- 4.17 The Guidance goes on to state that "it would be inappropriate to assume an uplift based on set percentages... given the diversity of individual development sites".

- 4.18 Commentators also make reference to “market testing” of benchmark land values. This is another variant of the benchmarking advocated by respondents outlined at paragraph 3.13. These respondents advocate using benchmarks that are based on the prices that sites have been bought and sold for. There are significant weaknesses in this approach which none of the respondents who advocate this have addressed. In brief, prices paid for sites are a highly unreliable indicator of their actual value, due to the following reasons:
- Transactions are often based on bids that ‘take a view’ on squeezing planning policy requirements below target levels. This results in prices paid being too high to allow for policy targets to be met. If these transactions are used to ‘market test’ CIL rates, the outcome would be unreliable and potentially highly misleading.
  - Historic transactions of housing sites are often based on the receipt of grant funding, which is no longer available.
  - There would be a need to determine whether the developer who built out the comparator sites actually achieved a profit at the equivalent level to the profit adopted in the viability testing. If the developer achieved a sub-optimal level of profit, then any benchmarking using these transactions would produce unreliable and misleading results.
  - Developers often build assumptions of growth in sales values into their appraisals, which provides a higher gross development value than would actually be achieved today. Given that our appraisals are based on current values, using prices paid would result in an inconsistent comparison (i.e. current values against the developer’s assumed future values). Using these transactions would produce unreliable and misleading results.
- 4.19 These issues are evident from a recent BNP Paribas Real Estate review of the differences between the value ascribed to developments by applicants and the amounts the sites were purchased for by the same parties. The prices paid exceeded the value of the consented schemes by between 52% and 18,000%.
- 4.20 The GLA’s SPG references the 2015 research published by the RICS<sup>4</sup>, which found that the ‘market value’ approach is not being applied correctly and sets out at page 26 that “if market value is based on comparable evidence without proper adjustment to reflect policy compliant planning obligations, this introduces a circularity, which encourages developers to overpay for sites and try to recover some or all of the overpayment via reductions in planning obligations”
- 4.21 For the reasons set out above, the approach of using current use values is a more reliable indicator of viability than using market values or prices paid for sites, as advocated by certain respondents. Our assessment follows this approach, as set out in Section 5.

<sup>4</sup> RICS Financial Viability Appraisal in Planning Decisions: Theory and Practice. April 2015

5 Appraisal inputs

Site areas and scheme content

Residential schemes

- 5.1 We have appraised the 8 residential development typologies reflecting both the range of sales values/capital values and also sizes/types of development and densities of development across the LBS that were tested in the 2015 Viability Study. In establishing these typologies the Council reviewed historic planning applications and had regard to development likely to come forward. These typologies are therefore reflective of developments that have been consented/delivered as well as those the Council expects to come forward in Southwark in future. Details of the residential schemes appraised are provided below in tables 5.1.1 and 5.1.2 below.

Table 5.1.1: Residential development typologies

No.	No. Resi units	Description of Development	Gross site area (Ha)	Site Gross to Net %
1	11	11 homes – up to 6 storeys	0.06	100%
2	30	30 homes – up to 6 storeys	0.47	100%
3	65	65 homes – 7- 13 storeys	0.66	100%

Mixed use schemes

- 5.2 As part of this update study we have also tested the impact of the requirement of the emerging NSP policies to replace commercial uses in two mixed use schemes as previously tested in the 2015 Viability Study. These schemes are derived from schemes tested in the CIL Viability Update Study November 2014 ('the CIL Study') (sites 64 and 70) as recommended by the Council who consider that these schemes are representative of the average likely mixed use schemes that are expected to come forward within the borough in future. We have then assessed the viability of these schemes when varying the quantum of office floorspace in the schemes between 25% and 10% of floorspace, to establish whether the requirement to provide commercial accommodation would necessitate a subsidy from the residential uses on the site. We set out the variations of the schemes tested in Table 5.2.1 below.

Table 5.2.1 Mixed Use development typologies gross floorspace (sq m)

No.	Residential (C3) (sq m)	Office (B1) (sq m)	Retail (A1-A5) (sq m)	Site area (Ha)	Density (units per HA)

Private Rented Sector ('PRS') and student accommodation

- 5.3 As in the 2015 Viability Study, for the student housing and PRS testing element of this study we have considered the impact of the emerging NSP options version policies on two of the schemes tested in the CIL Study November 2014. We have assessed the scheme in site no 54 for the student accommodation and the scheme site no 67 for PRS housing. Full details on these sites and schemes are set out in the CIL Viability Update Study. We would highlight that the schemes in the CIL Study were developments identified by the Council based on actual schemes where planning permission had been granted or notional schemes identified as evidence in the preparation of other planning policy documents.

Appraisal inputs

- 5.4 Given the amount of time that has lapsed since the initial inputs to the 2014 CIL Viability Study were established we have undertaken research to consider appropriate current inputs, thereby ensuring that the best available evidence is utilised. We have also sought to maintain consistency in the Council's evidence base documents wherever possible and appropriate to do so. We set out further detail on the inputs adopted in the following sections.

Residential sales values

Economic and housing market context

- 5.5 The housing and commercial property markets are inherently cyclical. The downwards adjustment in house prices in 2008/9 was followed by a prolonged period of real house price growth. By 2010 improved consumer confidence fed through into more positive interest from potential house purchasers. However, this brief resurgence abated with figures falling and then fluctuating in 2011 and 2012. The improvement in the housing market towards the end of 2012 continued through into 2013 at which point the growth in sales values improved significantly through to the last quarter of 2014, where the pace of the improvement was seen to moderate and continued to do so in 2015. The UK economy sustained momentum following the result of the UK's referendum on its membership of the European Union (EU), and as a result the UK housing market surprised many in 2016. The average house price rose 4.5%, which was 0.2% lower than our forecast and ahead of the level recorded in 2015. While first time buyer numbers continued to recover in 2016, overall transaction levels slowed as some home movers and investors withdrew from the market.

- 5.6 The referendum held on 23 June 2016 on the UK's membership of the EU resulted in a small majority in favour of exit. The immediate aftermath of the result of the vote was a fall in the Pound Sterling to a 31 year low and stocks overselling due to the earnings of the FTSE being largely in US Dollars. As the Pound dropped significantly this supported the stock market, which has since recouped all of the losses seen and is near the all-time highs. We are now in a period of uncertainty in relation to many factors that impact the property investment and letting markets. In March 2017, the Sterling Exchange Rate Index ("ERI") fell a further 1.5% from the end of February and was 10.5% lower compared with the end of March 2016. Both the August 2017 and November 2017 Bank of England's Inflation Reports identify that Sterling has remained around 15%-20% below its November 2015 peak since the EU Referendum. In the run up to its August Report the Sterling ERI was 2% lower than at the time of its May Report, and 18% below its late-2015 peak, which remains unchanged in November 2017.
- 5.7 However in other areas there have been tentative signs of improvement and resilience in the market. For example, the International Monetary Fund revised its forecast for UK growth in 2016 on 4 October 2016 from 1.7% to 1.8%, thereby partly reversing the cut it made to the forecast shortly after the referendum (1.9% to 1.7%). Notwithstanding this, it further trimmed its 2017 forecast from 1.3% to 1.1%, which stood at 2.2% prior to the Referendum. This figure was subsequently increased to 2% in April 2017, however was reduced in July 2017 to 1.7%. This figure remains unchanged as reported in the IMF's current forecast set out in their October 2017 World Economic Outlook report. The IMF expects growth to slow again in 2018, with a current forecast of 1.5%. The IMF's judgment on the UK's prospects reflects weaker growth in consumer spending due to the fall in the value of the pound and the subsequent impact that this has had on real, inflation-adjusted, incomes.
- 5.8 The UK's first official growth figures following the referendum result vote exceeded initial estimates. According to the ONS figures published on 23 November 2017, the Economy slowed slightly from the Q2 figure of 0.5% to grow by 0.4% in Q3 2016, which was higher than analyst's predictions of 0.3%. The UK economy grew by 0.3% in Q1 and Q2 2017 as compared to 0.6% in Q4 2016. The UK economy expanded by 0.4% in Q3, which is marginally above the previous two quarters in 2017, which brings the year on year growth to 1.5%.
- 5.9 The Bank of England's November 2017 Inflation report identifies that,
- "The profile of GDP growth in recent years has been revised in the latest data. While on average the revisions have been fairly small, they point to a more gradual slowing in four-quarter growth since 2015 than previously estimated. Recent estimates are likely to be revised further once the ONS receives and incorporates a fuller range of data. The MPC's backcast, which takes into account information from business surveys and the past revision properties of the official data, points to an even more gradual slowing in growth.*
- The majority of the slowdown in output growth since the end of 2016 has been accounted for by slower growth within the service sector. Part of that may reflect sluggish growth in household consumption, as higher import prices following sterling's depreciation have weighed on households' purchasing power.*
- 5.10 The November 2017 Inflation Report goes on to highlight that, "The decision to leave the European Union is having a noticeable impact on the economic outlook. The overshoot of inflation throughout the forecast predominantly reflects the effects on import prices of the referendum-related fall in sterling. Uncertainties associated with Brexit are weighing on domestic activity, which has slowed even as global growth has risen significantly. And Brexit-related constraints on investment and labour supply appear to be reinforcing the marked slowdown that has been increasingly evident in recent years in the rate at which the economy can grow without generating inflationary pressures.”

- 5.11 The key announcement in November 2017 from the Bank of England was that, as indicated in the August 2017 Inflation Report, the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) voted (by a majority of 7–2) to increase Bank Rate by 0.25 percentage points, to 0.5%. The MPC sets monetary policy to meet the 2% inflation target, which it considers helps to sustain growth and employment. The Report identifies that, “Monetary policy continues to provide significant support to jobs and activity in the current exceptional circumstances. All members agree that any future increases in Bank Rate would be expected to be at a gradual pace and to a limited extent.” The Report goes on to identify that, “The Committee will monitor closely the incoming evidence on [the response of households, businesses and financial markets] and other developments, including the impact of today’s increase in Bank Rate, and stands ready to respond to changes in the economic outlook as they unfold to ensure a sustainable return of inflation to the 2% target.”
- 5.12 The Office for National Statistics (“ONS”) provides details of averaging incomes in the United Kingdom in its “Nowcasting household income in the UK financial year ending 2017” report published in July 2017. In this report the ONS sets out that that “the median household disposable income for all households, during the financial year ending (“FYE”) 2017 was £27,200, an increase of 1.8% compared with FYE 2016 (£26,700) after accounting for inflation and household composition; this is 5.7% (£1,500) higher than its pre-economic downturn value of £25,700 in FYE 2008. However, the median income for retired and non-retired households was £22,000 and £29,000 respectively, for the FYE 2017, increasing by 1.7% and 1.5% respectively, compared with FYE 2016. Despite the similar growth rate, described previously for the retired and non-retired households, their pattern of change since the start of the economic downturn has been very different. The median income for retired households increased by an average 1.4% per year between the FYE 2008 (£19,500) and the FYE 2017. On the other hand, the median income for non-retired households remained almost flat for this time period, with an average growth rate of 0.0% per year between the FYE 2008 (£29,200) and the FYE 2017. The fall in average disposable income for non-retired households after the economic downturn reflected a fall in income from employment (including self-employment). Similarly, it is earnings growth at the household level, in part due to rising employment levels, that has been the main driver of the most recent increases in average income for non-retired households.” Claudia Wells (Head of Household and Income and Expenditure Analysis at the ONS) has commented that “this has a negative effect on the economy, as this slow increase in average household income, has affected consumer spending and increased borrowing and personal debt overtime”.
- 5.13 It is worth noting that stamp duty changes when purchasing residential property from December 2014, has also had an effect on the housing market, as it encourages first time buyers, who predominantly purchase lower priced properties, to pay lower stamp duty rates: up to £125,000 (0%), up to £250,000 (2%); and discourages wealthier families to buy property who have the capital to buy a £1,000,000 but now have to pay 10% stamp duty rates, which will significantly impede their budgets and affordability. However, for overseas investors, the post-EU referendum fall in sterling has offset the impact of higher Stamp Duty to a large extent. As BNP Paribas Real Estate noted in our Q2 Housing Market Report and reaffirms in our Q3 2017 Housing Market Prospectus Report, “the market has become increasingly reliant on first-time buyers, especially with the depletion of mortgaged movers from the market. Income weakness clearly has potential to dent activity amongst this group given the high average loan-to-value ratios needed to gain the first step on the ladder.” In addition, there is further impact on the market due to tax changes on the purchase of second properties. The August Bank of England’s August 2017 Inflation Report highlighted that, “Much of the weakness in housing market activity over the past 18 months reflects a fall in the number of buy-to-let property transactions following policy changes such as the introduction of the stamp duty charge for additional properties in April 2016. Buy-to-let mortgage completions fell sharply in April 2016 (middle panel of Chart A) and have remained broadly flat since then. Perhaps consistent with that, the slowdown in housing market activity over the past 18 months has been particularly pronounced in London and the South

East, which together account for around 50% of buy-to-let transactions.” We note that the November 2017 Report identifies that, “The outlook for the housing market remains fairly subdued, with the balance of respondents to the September RICS housing survey reporting lower price and sales expectations for the coming months than earlier in the year. In the near term, price inflation and activity in the housing market are projected to remain well below past averages, broadly consistent with the outlook for income and consumption. While housing investment was weak in Q2, the stabilisation in housing activity should provide some support to measured housing investment in the near term.”

- 5.14 BNP Paribas Real Estate’s Q3 Housing Market Prospectus Report, highlights that, the Council of Mortgage Lenders (CML) published a report entitled ‘Missing Movers: A Long-Term Decline in Housing Transactions?’, which investigates the reasons for the low level of housing transactions that have become a feature of the UK market since the financial crisis. The research finds long-term economic and demographic issues are responsible for the dip in activity, with ageing and equity-rich households reducing activity at one end of the market while affordability has sapped activity amongst mortgaged households, the former being the bedrock of housing activity. With little expectation of either improving real incomes, or a growth in equity to make potential moves worthwhile, the report concludes that in the absence of any radical changes to housing or indeed wider related policies “we should expect for the foreseeable future movement among mortgaged households to remain constrained.” It is notable therefore that more affordable regions of the country such as, the West Midland and the South West, benefiting from a solid economic base are currently showing more robust levels of activity (RICS).
- 5.15 The November 2017 Halifax House Price Index Report identifies that “The annual rate of growth has continued to rise for the third month in succession, rising from 4.0% in September to 4.5% in October. The average house price is now £225,826 – exceeding last month’s previous high. House prices in the three months to October were 2.3% higher than in the previous quarter, the fastest quarterly increase since January.” Nationwide’s November 2017 House Price Index Report identifies that the UK annual house price growth remained stable at 2.5% in September, with annual growth “remaining within the 2-4% range that has prevailed since March 2017.”
- 5.16 As has been continuously reported on by both Robert Gardiner (Nationwide’s Chief Economist) and Russell Galley, (Managing Director of Halifax Community Bank) the UK house prices continue to be supported by an ongoing shortage of properties on the market for sale, low mortgage rates and strong growth in employment. However, this is being partially offset by increasing pressure on household incomes/spending power and continuing affordability concerns.
- 5.17 The Nationwide Report also highlighted that they consider that there will be limited impact from the recently announced stamp duty changes. Robert Gardiner considers that “The decision in the Budget to abolish stamp duty (SDLT) for first time buyers purchasing a property up to £300,000 (with relief for those purchasing a property up to £500,000) is likely to have only a modest impact on overall demand. In many regions, first time buyers already paid little or no stamp duty as the price of the typical first time buyer property was below the previous threshold of £125,000.” Further, “The potential savings are more substantial for borrowers where house prices are higher, especially in London and the South East. However, as the Office for Budget Responsibility noted, some of the benefit is likely to be passed on to existing home owners through higher house prices, though overall impact on prices is likely to be very modest (the OBR estimate they may be increased by c.0.3%, mostly in 2018).”
- 5.18 Residential sales value forecasts by numerous property firms identify that uncertainty has weighed down the market slowing sales value growth. The future trajectory of house prices is currently uncertain. Property firms’ forecasts identify that values are expected to increase over the next five years, however this price growth is identified as being more moderate than over the past 20 years. There is a consensus that a low level of price growth is expected over the next year with a return to stronger sales value growth in 2019 – 2020, when it is anticipated that there will be more certainty on the deal agreed for the UK’s exit from the EU and employment growth, wage growth and GDP growth return towards trend levels. Savills highlight in their Spotlight Autumn 2017 Residential Property Forecasts Report that, “any rise in the Bank of England base rate, no matter how gradual or limited, will increase the cost of borrowing for households with a variable-rate mortgage. It will also hit households looking to agree a new mortgage: lenders must apply an interest rate ‘stress test’ to make sure their borrowers can afford repayments should rates rise. These new tests will push mortgage availability out of the reach of more households. This is what limits our growth forecasts for 2021 and 2022. With mortgage affordability increasingly constrained, any house price growth will be driven by earnings growth.”

5.19 BNP Paribas Real Estate’s UK Housing Market Report published in Q2 2017 forecast for a period of muted activity and price change expecting “the average UK house price to rise by 2.2% [in 2017], half that seen in 2016”. In the Q3 2017 Housing Market Prospectus, we report that, “we expect the average UK house price to rise by around 3.5%, effectively remaining close to flat in real terms given the current pace of inflation.” Further, “we expect the average UK home to have increased in value by 13.7% or just over £28,000 over the next four years. This translates to an average UK house price increase of 3.4% per annum, although given the political and economic uncertainty ahead, the journey is unlikely to feel quite so benign with the average masking inevitable volatility”. We provide further detail on sales value forecasts for London below.

5.20 According to Land Registry data (see graphs below), residential sales values in Southwark have recovered since the lowest point in the cycle in May 2009. Prices have increased by 109% between June 2009 and September 2017 (the most recent month for which data is available). In September 2017, sales values were circa 1.3% higher than the same period in 2016. In June 2011 house prices exceeded the previous peak prices in December 2007 and at September 2017 were circa 71% above the peak of the market values, demonstrating a strong recovery.

- 5.21 We have undertaken research into residential sales values using a number of online sources including Moliar London, Land Registry, Rightmove and Zoopla as well as knowledge of the market from undertaking site specific viability assessments in the LBS. Based on this information we have adopted a range of sales values reflective of each of the CIL Zones, which are set out in Table 5.21.1 below.

Table 5.21.1 Range of sales values adopted in study

CIL Zone	Value category	£ per sq ft	£ per sq m
Zone 1	High	£2,155	£23,196
Zone 1	Medium	£1,400	£15,070
Zone 1	Low	£1,150	£12,379
Zone 2	High	£1,175	£12,648
Zone 2	Medium	£850	£9,149
Zone 2	Low	£710	£7,642
Zone 3	High	£775	£8,342
Zone 3	Medium	£725	£7,804
Zone 3	Low	£650	£6,997

- 5.22 We have reviewed a number of residential sales values forecasts for London, all of which predict that sales values will increase over the medium term. These forecasts are as follows:

- BNP Paribas Real Estate (Published September 2017) – less than 3% per annum for next three years (2017 - 2020);
- Savills (published November 2017) – 7.1% growth in mainstream London and 20.3% growth for prime central London and 10.2% growth for prime other London markets between 2018-2022; and
- JLL (published November 2017) – 11.4% growth in Greater London markets, 9.8% in central London developments and 8.7% in prime Central London markets 2018-2022; and

- Knight Frank (published May 2017) – 12.5% growth in mainstream London markets, between 15.9% and 10.4% in prime central London and 11.4% in prime outer markets between 2017-2021;

5.23 Whilst this predicted growth cannot be guaranteed, we have run sensitivity analyses assuming growth in sales values of 10%, accompanied by cost inflation of 5%. These analyses provide the Council with an indication of the impact of potential changes in values and costs on viability.

5.24 We have also undertaken research on weekly residential rental values being achieved in PRS schemes in the LBS using data from the Moliar London online database. Based on our findings we set out in Table 5.24.1 the rental values adopted in our assessment of PRS schemes.

Table 5.24.1 Range of residential rental values adopted in study

High	1 bed	£600	£2,600
High	2 bed	£650	£2,817
High	3 bed	£750	£3,250
Med	1 bed	£410	£1,780
Med	2 bed	£489	£2,120
Med	3 bed	£618	£2,680
Low	1 bed	£350	£1,520
Low	2 bed	£433	£1,880
Low	3 bed	£563	£2,440

5.25 In our assessment of the viability of PRS schemes we have assumed an allowance for the likely rents that could be achieved based on the information set out in Table 5.24.1 above. We have then included an allowance of 25% which accounts for the costs of maintenance, lettings management, repairs, void periods, insurance, utilities and replacement of fixtures and fittings. This figure is considered to be at the upper end of such costs with larger schemes being able to achieve better economies of scale and the actual costs incurred being closely linked to the nature and range of onsite facilities and services offered.

5.26 We have capitalised the net annual rental income of the units by a net yield of 3.15%, which is in line with market research published by CBRE<sup>5</sup>.

Affordable housing tenure and values

5.27 As identified in section 3 above, the NSP's emerging policy DM 1 – Affordable Homes, sets out that that the Council will seek a minimum of 35% affordable housing on developments of 11 or more units, subject to viability, with a tenure mix that varies according to area. Of this 35%, a minimum of 25% must be for social rented homes and up to 10% is to be intermediate across the Borough outside the Aylesbury Area Action Plan ('AAAP') area. Sites located within in the AAAP, the target already set is a minimum of 50% affordable housing of which a minimum of 37.5% is to be social rented homes and a minimum of 12.5% is to be intermediate homes.

5.28 In this Update study we have tested the ability of the typologies to deliver 10% to 50% affordable housing at 5% increments, as well as 0% and 100% affordable housing. We have assessed the 25% social rented homes element at both locally calculated social rents and London Affordable Rents for 2017/18 as set out in the Homes for Londoners London Affordable ('LAR') Homes Programme 2016-2021 (November 2016).

- 5.29 The benchmarks for LAR reflect the formula rent cap figures for social rents uprated by CPI for September 2016 plus one per cent. These benchmarks will be uprated each April by the increase in CPI (for the previous September) plus one per cent and updated benchmarks will be published by the GLA on an annual basis.
- 5.30 As with the 2015 Viability Report, we have used our bespoke model to value the affordable housing, specifically created for this purpose, which replicates how RPs undertake such appraisals. This model runs cashflows for the rented tenures in Southwark over a period of circa 35 years which capitalises the net rental income stream. With respect to the social rented accommodation the model calculates the gross rent for these properties derived from a combination of property values (as at January 1999), local earnings and property size subject to not exceeding the rent cap for the 2015-2016 period, in line with HCA guidance. The net rent is then calculated by taking into account factors such as: standard levels for individual registered providers (RP's) management and maintenance costs; finance rates currently obtainable in the sector; allowances for voids and bad debt.
- 5.31 With respect to intermediate affordable housing, our assessment of shared ownership units has been based on the following assumptions. RPs will sell 25% initial equity stakes and charge a rent of up to 2.75% on the retained equity. A 3% charge for management is deducted from the rental income and the net amount is capitalised using a yield of 5%. In all cases, the values are capped (if necessary) to ensure that total housing costs (mortgage payment, rent and service charge) are affordable to households on incomes identified in the emerging NSP and that households spend no more than 40% of their net income on housing. We have also undertaken sensitivity testing based on the GLA's higher income thresholds. We set out these income thresholds in Table 5.31.1 below.

Table 5.31.1 Intermediate income thresholds

Unit Type	LB Southwark threshold	GLA threshold
1 Bed	£46,136	£90,000
2 Bed	£54,513	£90,000
3 Bed	£63,218	£90,000
4 Bed	£71,766	£90,000

- 5.32 The Council has also expressed interest in understanding the impact on viability of adopting London Living Rent ('LLR') in place of shared ownership products in schemes. The Mayor of London introduced LLR as an intermediate affordable housing product with locally specified sub-market rents on time-limited tenancies aimed at households who aspire to home ownership. Eligibility is restricted to households with an income no greater than £60,000 and who save towards a housing deposit. We have undertaken an assessment of the GLA's published LLR values attributed to the wards in Southwark and have adopted the following rent assumptions in the study.

Table 5.32.1 LLRs adopted in study based on GLA ward based rental data for LBS

CIL Zone	Def of Rent	1 Bed	2 Bed	3 Bed	4 Bed
1	High	£1,120	£1,245	£1,369	£1,494
1	Med	£1,116	£1,240	£1,364	£1,488

5.33 We set out the results of our appraisals of the value of affordable housing achievable in the LBS at Appendix 1.

Commercial revenue

5.34 As with the residential inputs we have undertaken research into updated inputs for the commercial uses tested in this study using a range of sources including EGi, Costar Suite, research reports published by reputable property companies, information on rents published by student accommodation providers and our understanding of the local markets from site specific viability assessments. We set out the assumptions adopted in Table 5.34.1 below.

Table 5.34.1: Commercial revenue inputs adopted in study

Use	Rent	Yield	Incentives/vacancy assumptions
Office (B1)
Zone 1	£65 per sq ft	4.75%	18 months rent free & void
Zone 2	£50 - £25 per sq ft	5.5% - 6.5%	18 months rent free & void
Zone 3	£25 - £18 per sq ft	6.5% - 7.00%	18 months rent free & void
Retail (A1-A5)
Zone 1	£58 per sq ft	5%	12 months rent free & void
Zone 2	£58 - £30 per sq ft	5% - 6%	12 months rent free & void
Zone 3	£30 - £25 per sq ft	6% - 7%	12 months rent free & void
Student housing (C2)		4.5%	95% occupancy term time and 50% occupancy summer let
Direct let/private scheme	£215 per week for singles and £269 per week for studios; and  £265 per week for singles and £335 per week for studios;		- 40 week term time let and 11 week summer let; and - 51 week let
Low nomination / university schemes	£168 per week and £240 during summer period; and		- 40 week term time let and 11 week summer let
GLA Affordable student accommodation	£159 per week and £240 during summer period		- 38 week term time let and 13 week summer let

Build costs

5.35 The LBS has commissioned WT Partnership ('WTP') to provide cost consultancy advice in relation to the build costs and extra over costs associated with policy requirements.

5.36 With respect to residential schemes, WTP have advised that an allowance for external works of 10% would be reasonable based on the average of such costs on the benchmarks considered. They have also included allowances of 0.35% of base build costs for lifetime homes, 0.5% for car parking and electric vehicle charging, 0.4% for SUDs and water attenuation and a further 2.5% for existing energy policies.

5.37 For commercial uses, WTP have advised that a 10% allowance for external works and a further 1% of base build costs to achieve BREEAM excellent.

- 5.38 WTP have advised that in our assessment of student accommodation schemes we should include an allowance of 10% for external works, 0.4% for SUDs and water attenuation and a further 2.5% for existing energy policies and 0.5% for wheelchair accessible student accommodation.
- 5.39 We summarise the costs adopted in Tables 5.39.1 and 5.39.2 below. For full details and breakdown of all the costs see Appendix 2 for a copy of WTP's report.

Table 5.39.1: Residential build costs adopted in typology testing

No.	Height	Gross to net	All in Residential (C3) costs per sq m
1	Up to 6 storeys	80%	£2,342
2	Up to 6 storeys	80%	£2,342
3	7 to 13 storeys	75%	£2,914
4	7 to 13 storeys	75%	£2,914
5	7 to 13 storeys	75%	£2,914
6	7 to 13 storeys	75%	£2,914
7	14 to 35 storeys	75%	£3,371
8	14 to 35 storeys	75%	£3,371

Table 5.39.2: Commercial build costs adopted in typology testing

Use	All in Build Cost per sq m
Office (B1)	CIL Zone 1 - £ 2,746 CIL Zone 2 - £2,746 - £2,231 CIL Zone 3 - £2,231
Retail (A1-A5)	£1,716
Student housing (C2)	£2,875

- 5.40 In addition to the above, we have allowed for a cost of £120 per sq m for demolitions based on the average identified from benchmark schemes considered as well as a contingency of 5%.

Professional fees

- 5.41 In addition to base build costs, schemes will incur professional fees, covering design, valuation, highways consultants and so on. Our appraisals incorporate a 10-12% allowance, dependant on the nature of the scheme and site constraints, which is a reasonable range for most schemes.

Marketing costs

- 5.42 Our appraisals incorporate an allowance of 3% for marketing costs, which includes show homes and agents' fees, plus 0.5% for sales legal fees.

Development finance

- 5.43 Our appraisals assume that development finance can be secured at a rate of 7%, inclusive of arrangement and exit fees, reflective of current funding conditions.

CIL and S106

- 5.44 We have included allowances for MCIL2 and the Updated LBS CIL as appropriate. In calculating the CIL liability of schemes we have allowed for a 20% discount to CIL liable floorspace related to existing floorspace which has been occupied for 6 months in the last 36 months in line with the CIL Regulations. This is based on the analysis of the average existing floorspace identified in the OKROA and CIL Update Viability study prepared in 2016.
- 5.45 Our appraisals also incorporate notional allowances of £2,000 per unit for residential schemes and £30 per sq m for commercial schemes to address any residual Section 106 costs, which is in accordance with the assumptions included in previous viability assessments undertaken on behalf of the Council.

Development and sales periods

- 5.46 Development and sales periods are based on an assumption of a sales rate of 7 units per month, which is reflective of current market conditions. We have also allowed for an element of off plan sales as we understand from agents active in the local market that schemes have been achieving off plan sales in excess of 50%.

Developer's profit

- 5.47 Further to our comments set out in section 4 above, we highlight that Developer's profit is closely correlated with the perceived risk of residential development. The greater the risk, the greater the required profit level, which helps to mitigate against the risk, but also to ensure that the potential rewards are sufficiently attractive for a bank and other equity providers to fund a scheme. In 2007, profit levels were at around 15-17% of development costs. However, following the impact of the credit crunch and the collapse in interbank lending and the various government bailouts of the banking sector, profit margins have increased. It is important to emphasise that the level of minimum profit is not necessarily determined by developers (although they will have their own view and the Boards of the major housebuilders will set targets for minimum profit).
- 5.48 The views of the banks which fund development are more important; if the banks decline an application by a developer to borrow to fund a development, it is very unlikely to proceed, as developers rarely carry sufficient cash to fund it themselves. Consequently, future movements in profit levels will largely be determined by the attitudes of the banks towards development proposals.
- 5.49 The near collapse of the global banking system in the final quarter of 2008 resulted in a much tighter regulatory system, with UK banks having to take a much more cautious approach to all lending. In this context, and against the backdrop of the current sovereign debt crisis in the Eurozone, the banks were for a time reluctant to allow profit levels to decrease. Perceived risk in the UK housing market had been receding with a range of developer profit of between 17% to 20% being seen on developments across London, but the outcome of the referendum on the UK's membership of the European Union and the commencement of negotiations to leave the EU following the triggering of Article 50, has resulted in a degree of uncertainty about the future trajectory of house prices. The Council has advised that information received on site specific viability assessments highlights that developers are currently targeting profit levels of between 17% to 20% of private housing GDV in the Borough. We have adopted a profit margin of 20% for testing purposes (being at the higher end of the range previously experienced), although individual schemes may require lower or higher profits, depending on site specific circumstances.
- 5.50 Our assumed profit on PRS schemes however is 15%, which reflects the fact that the risks associated with void periods etc. are already factored into the management and maintenance costs.
- 5.51 Our assumed return on the affordable housing GDV is 6%. A lower return on the affordable housing is appropriate as there is very limited sales risk on these units for the developer; there is often a pre-sale of the units to an RP prior to commencement. Any risk associated with take up of intermediate housing is borne by the acquiring RP, not by the developer. A reduced profit level on the affordable housing reflects the GLA 'Development Control Toolkit' guidance and Homes and Communities Agency's guidelines in its Economic Appraisal Tool.

- 5.52 This issue was considered in detail by the Inspector of the Former Holsworthy Showground, Trewyn Road, Holsworth Appeal<sup>6</sup>. The Inspector identified that, 'profit margin will vary from site to site and in different circumstances. On risky sites it is to be expected that profit expectations would be higher, and vice versa.' He goes on to state that, 'there are various 'rules of thumb' which are quoted when discussing developer profit, and these tend to vary between 15% and 25%. That would tend to support a mid range figure in the region of 20% for a 'run of the mill' site. But equally it is often a 'rule of thumb' that affordable housing carries less risk and that a profit of about 6% is reasonable. That is not the aspiration of the developer here. However, I have heard no convincing evidence that the risks of affordable housing provision on this site are such that 20% across the board profit is reasonable. Adoption of 20% for open market and 6% affordable in this case would produce a 'blended' margin of about 18%.' He concludes by stating that, 'taking these matters in the round I am not persuaded that a profit of 20% on both open market and affordable housing has been justified. The risk of affordable provision here is not greater than would be expected on any site given the existing need for affordable housing.'
- 5.53 This approach accords with the approach taken in the Council's previous viability studies as well as that adopted by developers in their assessments submitted to the Council for actual schemes seeking planning consent in the LBS.

Exceptional costs

- 5.54 Exceptional costs can be an issue for development viability on previously developed land. Exceptional costs relate to works that are "atypical", such as remediation of sites in former industrial use and that are over and above standard build costs. However, for the purposes of this exercise, it is not possible to provide a reliable estimate of what exceptional costs would be, as they will differ significantly from site to site. Our analysis therefore excludes exceptional costs, as to apply a blanket allowance would generate misleading results. An "average" level of costs for decontamination, flood risk mitigation and other "abnormal" costs is already reflected in base build costs data, as such costs are frequently encountered on sites that form the basis of the benchmark data that have informed WT Partnership's advice.
- 5.55 We would also highlight that the Bristol CIL examiner identified at Para 26 of his report dated July 2012, that, "By definition, the CIL cannot make allowance for abnormal, site specific, costs. The rates have to be based on a generic analysis of a variety of size and type of schemes across the area, taking into account average local build costs, not the individual circumstances of particular sites. The fact that a few specific schemes that are already marginal may become unviable in certain locations should not have a significant impact on the delivery of new housing across the city to meet the requirements of the adopted CS." In addition it is considered that the costs associated with the remediation of such sites would be taken into consideration in the land value.

Benchmark land values

- 5.56 As identified in Section 4 above, BNP Paribas Real Estate considers the appropriate benchmark land values to be based on the existing use value or alternative use value of sites in the assessment of development economics for testing planning policies and tariffs. This position is supported by the Harman Group Guidance. Clearly, there is a point where the Residual Land Value (what the landowner receives from a developer) that results from a scheme may be less than the land's existing use value. Existing use values can vary significantly, depending on the demand for the type of building relative to other areas. Similarly, subject to planning permission, the potential development site may be capable of being used in different ways – as a hotel rather than residential for example; or at least a different mix of uses. Existing use value or alternative use value are effectively the 'bottom line' in a financial sense and therefore a key factor in this study.

- 5.57 The 2015 Viability Study adopted a range of benchmark values, which were initially derived from the CIL Viability Study 2014. This ensured the consideration of a wide spread of existing uses, which were based on actual development proposals/schemes in the LBS and therefore the benchmarks adopted reflect an appropriate range of values for the study to consider. We have reviewed the site specific benchmark land values adopted in the 2015 Viability Study based on reassessing the existing values using appropriate current inputs for the sites in the CIL Viability Study 2014 and the OKROA and CIL Update study 2016, which also included testing based on actual schemes/ planning permissions.
- 5.58 The benchmark values, have been derived by analysing the above benchmark land value data on a per hectare basis for each of the CIL Zones. From this data we have established appropriate average high, medium and low land values, which we have adopted as our benchmark range. These are as follows:

Table 5.58.1 Benchmarks adopted in study per Ha

Benchmark	CIL Zone 1	CIL Zone 2	CIL Zone 3
Low	£41,552,000	£6,784,000	£6,784,000
Medium	£72,325,000	£17,299,000	£13,474,000
High	£90,000,000	£27,624,000	£27,624,000

6 Appraisal results

6.1 In this section we set out the results of our appraisals and viability testing to establish the impact of the Council's proposed policies in the emerging NSP on development.

Affordable Housing testing

6.2 As identified in section 5, we have tested 8 residential typologies reflecting different densities and types of development that have historically and will in future come forward across the borough. Each appraisal incorporates the emerging NSP policy requirements and tests delivery of affordable housing as set out in section 5 and summarised below:

- a range of different levels (0%, 10%, 15%, 20%, 25%, 30%, 35%, 40%, 45%, 50% and 100%);
- rented vs intermediate tenure splits (71%:29% (equating to 25%:10% in line with Policy DM1) as well as sensitivity testing 75%:25% and 60%:40%);
- tenures (Rented accommodation as social rent or LAR and intermediate accommodation as shared ownership); and
- intermediate affordability criteria (Southwark and GLA intermediate income thresholds).

6.3 The methodology adopted for reporting the results of this testing is a 'traffic light' system. Each page of the full results in Appendices 3 and 4 show the residual land value generated by the scheme (based on the particular combination of affordable housing percentage, sales values and costs), in the grey boxes, and compares this to the high, medium and low benchmark land values for each CIL Zone, identified in the yellow boxes. The comparison is then set out in the summary tables in which:

- Green shading indicates that scheme is viable (where the residual land value is higher than the benchmark land value);
- Orange shading indicates that the scheme generates a residual value less than the benchmark value incorporating a 20% premium but greater than or equal to the Existing Use Value<sup>7</sup>;
- Red shading indicates that the scheme is unviable (where the residual land value is lower than the benchmark Land Value).

6.4 We set out below the results from our base position testing for typologies 3 and 6 in tables 6.4.1 and 6.4.2 respectively, to assist with demonstrating the findings of this study. These set out the results of schemes tested as current day values and cost. As identified above, the full results of our testing can be found at Appendix 3.

<sup>7</sup> Whether the site comes forward for development would depend on whether the landowner would accept a lower or no premium on the existing use of the site

- 6.5 The results of this testing identify that the Council's Policy DM 1 requirement of 35% affordable housing is still a reasonable requirement across all developments in the LBS. The testing has identified that some schemes, subject to their benchmark land values, are able to achieve higher quantities of affordable housing (50% and more affordable housing), however looking holistically across the schemes tested we would recommend that the Council maintains its requirement at 35%.
- 6.6 As is to be expected with any strategic viability testing, some schemes are identified as having challenging viability regardless of the Council's affordable housing policy i.e. they are identified as being unviable at 0% affordable housing. In Southwark we consider this to be mainly as a result of high benchmark land values. In practice therefore, such sites would not come forward for development as they are more valuable in their existing use.
- 6.7 The Council's flexible approach in the application of their affordable housing policy i.e. that the provision of affordable housing is subject to viability, considered on a site by site basis, will assist with both development viability and ensuring the delivery of the maximum quantum of viable affordable housing.
- 6.8 The results of our appraisals for Typology 1, a small scheme of 11 units, clearly demonstrate that such schemes are no less viable than larger schemes. In this regard our advice that there is no need for the Council to adopt a differential or sliding scale of rates for schemes of between 10 to 15 units remains unchanged. The application of a 35% affordable housing requirement, applied flexibly i.e. allowing for viability, will allow smaller schemes to be delivered in the Borough and assist, where necessary, to deliver schemes where due to site specific circumstances, sites are identified as having challenging viability.
- 6.9 The sensitivity testing of affordable housing tenures as part of this assessment has identified that the Council's preferred policy approach of seeking 25% of their 35% total as social rent and 10% as intermediate (reflected as an 71%:29% tenure split in the results tables) across the majority of the borough can be delivered in a number of the scenarios tested. The results of the appraisals identify that the amendment of the tenure split to 75:25 and 60:40 from 71:29 can be seen to have an impact on viability, as expected, however such changes in viability are demonstrated as being minor.
- 6.10 Further, the results identify that viability can be seen to improve marginally when LAR is sought in place of Borough calculated social rent (of up to circa 5%). Given this position and that the Council has an identified need for social rented housing in the Borough, we consider that the emerging NSP's policy approach of requiring rented affordable housing to be delivered as Borough calculated social rents as a priority is reasonable.
- 6.11 Our assessment of shared ownership accommodation has identified that viability improves with increasing income thresholds from the Council's identified thresholds to the GLA's thresholds. However, this is seen to be only a marginal improvement in viability given that intermediate units make up a small part of the affordable housing offer (circa 29%). As with the Council's approach to LAR, we consider that allowing the Higher GLA thresholds on intermediate units in exceptional circumstances to be reasonable. This is particularly given the context that this can be seen to improve viability by circa 5% in some schemes.
- 6.12 Our testing of schemes with the inclusion of LLR in place of shared ownership is seen to have a limited impact on the viability in schemes where shared ownership values are based on the Council's lower income thresholds. Shared ownership at the GLA's income thresholds is identified as being more viable than LLR.

Sensitivity testing sales values and build costs

- 6.13 As noted in Section 3, we carried out further analyses which consider the impact of the growth in sales values of 10%, accompanied by cost inflation of 5%. This data is illustrative only, as the future housing market trajectory is uncertain. However, if such increases were to occur, the tables contained within Appendix 4 set out the results in terms of the levels of affordable housing that could be viably provided in conjunction with other policy requirements such as CIL, S106 and extra over costs associated with delivering sustainability.
- 6.14 It is noted however, that these results provide a useful indication of the likely position for the Council's requirement for schemes to the delivery of affordable housing given an improvement in the market. It is also worth noting that once there is more certainty in the economy and market, reflected in stronger growth in 2019/20 there may be potential for developer's return/profits to reduce in future, to the levels seen during the peak of the last cycle, which would further improve viability. It is also possible that during the life of the plan grant funding for S106 affordable housing in developments may become available again.
- 6.15 The sensitivity appraisals indicate that such an increase in sales values and build costs would result in an improvement in viability and the ability of schemes to provide affordable housing in combination with other policy requirements. Over the remaining life of the existing Housing Policy and the life of the Council's emerging Local Plan, additional growth is likely, leading to a further improvement in scheme viability.

PRS schemes

- 6.16 The emerging NSP recognises that the PRS meets the housing needs of residents who cannot afford to or do not want to buy private homes in Southwark. It considers that the PRS has the potential to increase Southwark's housing supply because developers have fewer concerns about the rate at which the market can absorb new homes. The NSP goes on to highlight that the Council wants to encourage a private rented sector which provides high quality, professionally managed accommodation and a greater level of security for tenants than that which is offered by much of the current PRS market. Policy DM4 Private Rented Homes identifies that such schemes will be granted planning permission where they provide affordable homes in accordance with Policy DM1 or provide at least 35% affordable discount market rent homes, subject to viability, delivered as 12% social rent equivalent rents, 18% affordable rent capped at London living rent equivalent rents and 5% affordable rent at rents for household incomes between £60,000 and £90,000 per year.
- 6.17 As previously identified we have undertaken viability testing of scheme 67 from the 2014 CIL Study to establish the quantum of affordable housing that can be delivered by PRS schemes in the LBS. We have tested this under both the requirements of Policy DM4 (i.e. at discount market rents) and Policy DM1 (i.e. traditional affordable housing provision) at high, medium and low values identified in Zone 2, which on the basis that these values are reflective of those achievable in Zones 1 to 3 and provide a good indication of the viability of such development across the LBS.
- 6.18 As identified in section 5 we have tested schemes assuming the developer retains the investment once completed and rents out the units. We set out the findings of our testing in Table 6.18.1 below.

- 6.19 The results of our appraisals indicate that PRS schemes should in most instances be able to viably deliver affordable housing as part of these scheme as currently required by the emerging NSP through Policy DM4 and its link to Policy DM1. We have undertaken sensitivity testing to understand the likely maximum levels of affordable housing such schemes should be able to support when providing this affordable housing as discount market rented accommodation in Policy DM4 and traditional affordable housing under Policy DM1. We note that Policy DM4 requires the delivery of at least 35% affordable homes, when provided as discount market rent homes. The results of our testing demonstrate that this is a reasonable approach to take give that affordable housing delivered as discount market rent units tends to be more viable than traditional affordable housing.
- 6.20 Both the NSP Policies DM1 and DM4 apply the requirement for affordable housing flexibly and in this regard as with residential schemes for sale, PRS schemes which are identified to have viability issues due to achieving lower values or having a higher benchmark land value will be considered on a case by case basis subject to viability. We therefore consider that the policies as proposed are reasonable and will ensure the delivery of the maximum reasonable quantum of affordable housing whilst ensuring development can viably come forward over the plan period where site specific issues arise that impact on schemes' viability.

Student Accommodation

- 6.21 Policy DM 22 Student Homes in the emerging NSP identifies that, schemes providing direct let student rooms at market rents will be expected to provide 35% of the Gross Internal Area as conventional affordable housing. In light of this, we have assessed the ability of a range of student housing developments to provide 35% affordable housing on the basis of the requirements of Policy DM1 Affordable Homes. We have tested the 35% affordable housing requirement as 25% social rented units at LAR levels and 10% shared ownership units. The Council's emerging Policy DM22 also seeks the provision of 27% of student rooms let at a rent that is affordable to students.
- 6.22 Our testing is based on three types of student accommodation:
- direct let/private schemes;
  - low nomination/university let schemes; and
  - GLA affordable student accommodation schemes.

- 6.23 In addition to the difference in rental values for student schemes, the length of tenancy adopted will also have an impact on the viability of such schemes. On this basis we have tested the viability of schemes at 40 week lets with 11 week summer lets and we have also sensitivity tested a 51 week let on the lower rents for direct let/private schemes. Where Affordable Student Accommodation is considered this is based on a 38 week term let at the GLA's most recently published Affordable Student Rate and 13 week summer lets.
- 6.24 We have tested our appraisals against high, medium and low Southwark CIL Zone 2 values for affordable housing on the basis that high Zone 2 values are reflective of those achievable in Zone 1, and the low values accord with those achievable in Zone 3.
- 6.25 Our different values and scenarios are appraised using Argus Developer, and compared against the appropriate benchmark land values (high, medium and low) in order to establish whether the student scheme is viable with the inclusion of 35% affordable housing. Where schemes are identified as unviable with 35% affordable housing we have undertaken sensitivity testing to establish the quantum of affordable housing such schemes could viably deliver. Our results are summarised in Table 6.25.1 below.

Direct let /private schemes

- 6.26 The results of our testing as set out in Table 6.24.1 indicate that at lower rents for direct let/private schemes of £215 per week for a single room and £269 per week for a studio room, let on 40 week term time tenancies and 11 week summer lets (Scenario 1), schemes are unviable at 35% affordable housing. However, the results of our sensitivity testing of these schemes identify that they are able to support between 22% to 32% affordable housing. We have also undertaken a sensitivity test of a scheme at the same level of rents but let on longer 51 week tenancies (Scenario 2). This is not an unreasonable assumption as many schemes in the LBS are identified as offering longer tenancies (i.e. Victoria Hall, Camberwell Campus and various Unite schemes). At 51 week tenancies the lower rental levels of direct let/private student schemes can viably deliver up to 35% affordable housing.
- 6.27 We have also considered the viability of schemes achieving higher rental values for direct let/private student accommodation. We have adopted rental levels of £265 per week for single rooms and £335 per week for studio rooms based on our research of higher value available student accommodation in the Borough. We have assumed a 40 week term time tenancy with 11 week summer let allowance, however we note that many schemes offer longer tenancy periods and often shorter tenancies incur a premium. The results of our appraisals identify that based on these assumptions direct let/private schemes can viably deliver 35% affordable housing in the borough.

Low nomination scheme values

- 6.28 Our testing has identified that nomination/university let schemes at low rents of £168 per week over a 40 week period with summer lets at £240 per week for single and studio rooms are unable to viably support 35% affordable housing. We have undertaken sensitivity testing to establish that at these rental levels, schemes can provide up to 5% conventional affordable housing.

GLA affordable student accommodation rent levels

- 6.29 We have also undertaken testing of schemes at 100% GLA affordable student rents of £159.24 per week based on a 38 week term tenancy with 13 week summer lets at £240 per week. As with the low nomination/university schemes the inclusion of conventional affordable housing renders such schemes unviable. At this lower level of rent viability is challenging and it is likely that such schemes will either require value engineering of costs or cross-subsidisation from student accommodation let at market rent levels or subsidisation from the educational institutions letting the units.

- 6.30 As part of this study we have also considered the quantum of GLA affordable student units that could be viably be provided as part of student schemes let at market rents in the LBS along with 35% conventional affordable housing. We have tested the lower rental value nomination/private scheme with 51 week tenancies for this scenario. Our results are summarised in the Table 6.30.1 below. This testing identifies that such schemes can viably deliver both conventional affordable housing along with between up to 27% GLA affordable student accommodation.

Table 6.30.1 Results of appraisals testing deliverability of 35% conventional affordable housing and GLA affordable student accommodation in viable direct let/private student accommodation schemes

Benchmark Land values	RLV	Viable % GLA Affordable Rented Units
High - £8,795,012	Not Viable at 35% AH	0%
Medium - £5,507,708	£5,509,055	10%
Low - £2,159,910	£2,161,756	27%

- 6.31 It is worth noting that as shown in Table 6.25.1, at 34% conventional affordable housing the scheme assessed against the highest benchmark land value is viable and generates a surplus which would allow for the provision of affordable student accommodation. On this basis the Council's approach of applying their affordable housing policy flexibly, i.e. subject to viability, will ensure that schemes coming forward deliver the maximum quantum of conventional affordable housing and student accommodation.

Mixed Use schemes

- 6.32 Policy DM24: Office and Business Development in the emerging NSP requires development to retain existing levels of business (B Use Classes) and/or other employment generating floorspace (sui-generis Use Class), except where there is no demand for either the continued use of the site for business or for redevelopment involving re-provision. This is to be subject to the provision of evidence demonstrating a rigorous marketing exercise for 18 months, immediately prior to any planning application, for both the site's existing state and as an opportunity for improved space.
- 6.33 This study considers the viability of two mixed use schemes where the quantum of office space in the development has been varied between 25% and 10%. The scheme's total quantum of floorspace is maintained, i.e. where there is an increase in office floorspace, this is lost from the residential floorspace in the scheme and vice versa. This demonstrates the impact on viability of increasing and decreasing commercial floorspace in development across the LBS. We set out the results of this testing in Table 6.33.1 below.

- 6.34 The testing demonstrates that some schemes will be able to viably provide commercial floorspace in development in LBS along with other policy requirements including affordable housing, however the degree to which this can be accommodated will differ from site to site and scheme to scheme.
- 6.35 The general trend demonstrated is that residential uses, particularly in areas where lower commercial values are achieved in the Borough subsidise the delivery of commercial floorspace. As acknowledged in the residential testing, there will always be certain schemes which are identified as being unviable regardless of the policy requirements i.e. the quantum of commercial floorspace and affordable housing, and these schemes would remain in their existing use until such time as a redevelopment or alternative use option becomes viable.
- 6.36 Given the above, we consider that the emerging NSP policy, which requires applicants to provide evidence where proposed schemes cannot provide replacement commercial floorspace, along with the flexibility offered by the Council's affordable housing policy, which is subject to viability provides suitable flexibility to ensure that appropriate development, providing a suitable mix of uses to support the identified needs of the LBS comes forward.

7 Conclusions and recommendations

- 7.1 The NPPF states that the cumulative impact of local planning authority standards and policies 'should not put implementation of the plan at serious risk, and should facilitate development throughout the economic cycle'. This report and its supporting appendices test this proposition within the LBS.
- 7.2 We have tested the impact of the Council's affordable housing policies and other requirements (including sustainability, Lifetime Homes, Section 106 and replacement commercial uses). The results generated by these appraisals indicate that the majority of developments could viably provide all or a large majority of the policy requirements, as ever, in order to ensure the delivery of the required growth in the LBS, particularly in the lower value areas, the Council needs to apply their policies flexibly. In this regard we consider that the Council's flexible approach to the application of the emerging NSP policies identified as having with cost implications will assist in the delivery of the identified growth in the local plan.
- 7.3 In considering the outputs of the appraisals, it is important to recognise that some developments will be unviable regardless of the Council's requirements i.e. due to market factors. In these cases, the value of the existing building will be higher than a redevelopment opportunity over the medium term. However, this situation should not be taken as an indication of the viability (or otherwise) of the LBS Council's policies and requirements. In these situations, there will be little pressure from owners to redevelop and they might re-consider the situation following changes in market conditions i.e. an improvement in sales values by comparison to build costs and the development value vs the existing use and competing uses for the site.
- 7.4 It is also worth noting that although the results of this viability exercise identify certain commercial development as not viable, it does not mean that sites will not be developed within the LBS for these uses. Viability is only one of many factors which affect whether a site is developed. For example, an existing occupier looking to re-locate may wish to develop their own premises by reference to their own cost benefit analysis, which will bear little relationship to the residual land value calculations that a speculative landlord developer may undertake.

Affordable housing

- 7.5 The testing has demonstrated that the Council's Policy DM1 requirement of 35% affordable housing remains a reasonable requirement across all developments in the LBS. Some schemes (subject to their benchmark land values) are able to achieve higher amounts of affordable housing (50% affordable housing). As can be expected however, some schemes are also identified as having challenging viability. However, the Council's flexible approach in their policy i.e. that the provision will be subject to viability, will assist with both development viability and ensuring the delivery of the maximum quantum of viable affordable housing. Considering the results of this assessment holistically and considering the Council's preference for social rented accommodation, we recommend that the current requirement of 35% is maintained.
- 7.6 In line with our findings in the 2015 Viability Study the results of this study we consider that there is no need for the Council to adopt a sliding scale of affordable housing for units between 11 to 15 units. The Council's approach requiring 35% affordable housing across all developments in the Borough on schemes of 11 units and more is reasonable as we consider that the Council's flexible approach to the application of their policy, i.e. subject to viability, is sufficient to assist where due to site specific circumstances schemes are unable to deliver 35% affordable housing.
- 7.7 The sensitivity testing of affordable housing tenures as part of this assessment has identified that the Council's Policy DM1 approach of seeking 25% social rent to 10% intermediate (71%:29%) across the majority of the LBS can be delivered in a number of the scenarios tested. Further, the results identify that viability can be seen to improve marginally when LAR is sought in place of Borough calculated social rent (of up to circa 5%). Given this position and that the Council has identified a need for social rented housing in the we consider that the emerging NSP's policy approach of requiring rented affordable housing to be delivered as Borough calculated social rents as a priority is reasonable.

- 7.8 Our assessment of shared ownership accommodation has identified that viability improves with increasing income thresholds from the Council's identified thresholds to the GLA's thresholds. However, this is seen to be only a marginal improvement in viability given that intermediate units make up a small part of the affordable housing offer (circa 29%).
- 7.9 Our testing of schemes with the inclusion of LLR in place of shared ownership is seen to have a limited impact on the viability in schemes where shared ownership values are based on the Council's lower income thresholds. Shared ownership at the GLA's income thresholds is identified as being more viable than LLR.
- 7.10 As with the Council's approach to LAR, we consider that allowing the Higher GLA thresholds on intermediate units in exceptional circumstances to be reasonable. This is particularly given the context that this can be seen to improve viability by circa 5% in some schemes.
- 7.11 In summary, given the results of the viability testing we consider that the Council's preferred approach to affordable housing is seeking:
- 35% affordable housing;
  - social rented accommodation;
  - intermediate units at the lower LBS specified rates; and
  - a tenure split of 25% social rented and 10% intermediate accommodation (circa 71%:29%).

as its prioritised policy starting point is still a reasonable requirement across all developments in the LBS. This is based on the identified Borough need for such accommodation and the confirmation that a reasonable number of schemes in the LBS would viably be able to deliver these requirements. We recommend that the Council continue to apply these considerations flexibly in exceptional circumstances where viability is identified as being particularly challenging, as this will assist the Council in delivering the housing growth identified in the emerging NSP options version.

Private rental sector housing

- 7.12 This study has considered the ability for PRS schemes to deliver affordable housing. We have updated our appraisals undertaken in the 2015 Viability Study assuming the developer will retain the PRS investment. Our testing has identified that, much like conventional housing schemes, PRS developments can in most instances viably deliver affordable housing and some instances dependant on the rental values achieved, benchmark land value and tenure of affordable housing secured can secure more than 35% affordable housing. In this regard we consider that the Council's emerging NSP Policy DM4 affordable housing requirements, which seeks a minimum of 35% affordable housing when delivered as discount market rent units subject to viability, will suitably allow schemes to come forward allowing for site specific issues whilst ensuring the maximum reasonable quantum of affordable housing is delivered.

Student accommodation

- 7.13 With respect to student accommodation, the study has identified that in line with the requirements of the NSP Policy DM22, direct let/private student housing can accommodate affordable housing to varying degrees with some schemes able to support at least 35% affordable housing as well as up to 27% of units as affordable student accommodation as suggested by the London Plan and defined by The Mayor's 'Draft Interim Housing Supplementary Planning Guidance' (May 2015) as updated by the London Plan Annual Monitoring Report 13 2015/16 (July 2017). Our testing has highlighted that such schemes are sensitive to changes in inputs, such as tenancy lengths and rents and in this regard we recommend that the Council applies their emerging policy flexibly i.e. subject to viability.

- 7.14 Our testing of nomination schemes/schemes let by universities at low rental levels and on shorter tenancies has identified that such schemes are unable to support much conventional affordable housing (up to circa 5% depending on the benchmark land value of the site).

Mixed use schemes

- 7.15 This study has demonstrated that schemes can viably provide commercial floorspace within developments in the Borough along with other policy requirements including affordable housing. However, the degree to which this can be accommodated will differ from site to site and scheme to scheme. On this basis we consider that the Council's Policy DM24, which requires applicants to provide evidence of lack of demand for floorspace and viability evidence where proposed schemes cannot provide replacement commercial floorspace, will provide suitable flexibility to ensure that appropriate development, providing a suitable mix of uses to support the identified needs of the Borough, comes forward.
- 7.16 This update study demonstrates that the Council's flexible approach to applying its emerging policy requirements, will ensure an appropriate balance between delivering affordable housing, sustainability objectives, necessary infrastructure and the need for landowners and developers to achieve competitive returns, as required by the NPPF. Maintaining this approach will ensure the 'scale of obligations and policy burdens' (para 174 of the NPPF) are appropriate in all instances to ensure that sites are, as far as possible, able to be developed viably and thus facilitate the growth envisaged by the Council's plans throughout the economic cycle without jeopardising the delivery of the aspirations of the emerging New Southwark Plan.

INTRODUCTION, METHODOLOGY AND ASSESSMENTS

We have been requested by BNP Paribas to provide some high level cost assessments to support their viability assessment in relation to the New Southwark Plan.

The costs are at a high level based upon benchmark information and actual development costs may vary due to site shape, building plan, heights, external materials used, number of units per core, unit mix, site abnormal items and the like

The costs are to be provided on a cost per ft<sup>2</sup> and m<sup>2</sup> of gross internal floor area (GIA). GIA being measured in accordance with RICS codes of practice

The New Southwark Plan is the New Southwark Plan Preferred Option New and Amended Policies dated June 2017. The previous Southwark Plan was The New Southwark Plan Preferred Option 2015

We have reviewed the new and previous policies in terms of costs and have identified three which in our opinion will have a cost effect

- 1 SP7- lifetime Homes
- 2 DM22- 10% wheelchair accessible units for student accommodation
- 3 DM48- Car parking and requirement for electric vehicle charging

We have reviewed the build costs used by BNP Paribas for their policy viability study in September 2015

The costs are for residential up to 6 storey, 7-13 storey and 14-35 storey, office, retail and student housing

We have reviewed the build cost in terms of updating previous costs using BCIS indices, BCIS rates and using London benchmarks

Update of September 2015 rates to 3rd Quarter 2017

Based on BCIS Tender Price Index we would have expected costs to have increased from 3rd Quarter 2015 to 3rd Quarter 2017 by 8.18%. This would give an updated set of build costs for residential below 6 storeys as £1,697/m<sup>2</sup>, residential over 6 storey £2,163/m<sup>2</sup>, residential 14-35 storey £ 2,705/m<sup>2</sup>. To these were added 4 % for sustainability and 15% for external works. For other buildings the update gives offices air conditioned £2,385/m<sup>2</sup>, offices non-air conditioned £1,892/m<sup>2</sup>, retail £1,401/m<sup>2</sup> and student accommodation £2,324/m<sup>2</sup>. To the commercial uses 10% for BREEAM and 10% for external works were added.

BCIS rates

London benchmarks

The benchmark approach is carried out by benchmarking in accordance with The RICS codes of practice, utilising projects of a similar nature in London which best reflect the anticipated developments and is a mixture of actual costs, tendered costs and developer and quantity surveyor's estimates

It should be understood when carrying out a benchmarking exercise different contractors and quantity surveyors price elements differently and include items in different sections so the exercise can only be used for indicative purposes only

The costs are based on present day out-tum costs as at 3rd Quarter 2017 and exclude inflation up to start on site. It should be understood the present market is quite volatile with the unknowns of Brexit and inflation forecasts are regularly being amended by those who publish inflation data.

The base cost estimate excludes cost of any demolitions and external works and separate allowances are indicated for these

The costs for site abnormal items such as asbestos removal, remediation, ground water, unforeseen obstructions and the like are excluded

The costs exclude professional fees, design fees, contingency, non –recoverable VAT, latent defects insurance, marketing suites, show units and the like

The method of procurement may affect the construction costs and WT Partnership have assumed single stage design and build method of procurement using a separate building contractor but excluding contractor's design fees. The costs do not include for a pre-construction services agreement being undertaken

The costs exclude any contribution to off-site energy strategies to meet carbon reductions

The costs exclude section 106, section 278 costs, highway adoption costs or the like

Residential

Building up to six storey based on a sample of 10 projects the base rate was £2,056/m<sup>2</sup>

Buildings 6-13 storey based on a sample of 9 projects £2655/m<sup>2</sup>

Buildings 14-37 storey average 25 storey based on a sample of 11 projects the base rate was £2,926/m<sup>2</sup>

In regard to the external works we would recommend the use of 10 % average based on the benchmarks used.

In our opinion an allowance of 0.40% should be added for SUDs and 2.5% add for existing energy policies as outlined below

Demolitions- Based on the demolition benchmarks we would expect to see a cost of circa £120/m<sup>2</sup> of existing GIA

Commercial uses

Commercial offices- from our benchmarks we would expect a new build office based on Croydon, Ealing, East London and Central London to be circa £2,400/m<sup>2</sup>. Based on this rate we would recommend 10% for the external works and 1 % to achieve BREEAM excellent

Retail- WT Partnership benchmarks are circa £1,500/m<sup>2</sup> based on shell and core. Based on this rate we would recommend 10% for the external works. To achieve BREEAM excellent would add circa 1%

Student Accommodation – The cost of student accommodation is dependent upon whether you have clusters of 6-8 students per apartment or single studios. The benchmarks we have equate to circa £2,500/m<sup>2</sup>

In regard to the external works we would recommend the use of 10% average be added to the offices , retail uses and student accommodation for external works

In our opinion an allowance of 0.40% should be added for SUDs and 2.5% add for existing energy policies as outlined below

Old Kent Road

We reviewed an updated the rates used for Old Kent Road which were benchmarked at that time and used for comparative purposes

New Policies

SP7- lifetime Homes

In our opinion this policy will add 0.35 % to the overall construction cost

DM22- 10% wheelchair accessible units for student accommodation

In our opinion this will add 0.5% to the construction cost of student accommodation based on an additional cost of £5,000 per unit

DM48- Car parking and requirement for electric vehicle charging

In our opinion this will add 1% to construction costs where there is one car parking space per unit, 0.5% where there is 0.5 maximum spaces per unit, 0.4% where there is 0.4 maximum space per unit and 0.25% where there is 0.25 maximum spaces per unit. For calculating potential cost we have taken an average 0.5%

Existing Policies and other related items

In our opinion the following are not covered by the base rate and need to be added

SUDs and attenuation- the costs of Suds and attenuation are very much dictated by the size of the site, density and ground conditions. It is also dependant on the approach the developer undertakes e.g. using green roofs, permeable paving, simple rainwater harvesting, swales, or water storage etc.

We have reviewed published papers and these indicated that the capital costs of SUDs would be circa £500 per unit or circa 0.30%

We have benchmarked against several projects and cannot give details of the projects as the information is confidential. We can however give post code and size of project- Large -

E16- value £300M- 0.34%, Nine Elms-£149M - 0.32%, Nine Elms -£125M- 0.28%, Harrow £70M- 0.32%, E5- £11M- 0.44%, SW18 -£25M -0.58%, N17 £150M – 0.20%. This gives an average of circa 0.36%

There are many other projects we looked at where it is difficult to isolate and identify items of work relating to the policy requirements and as stated above there are also many options open to a developer to meet these requirements and our assessment can only be considered an opinion as to a reasonable allowance

We are therefore of the opinion an allowance of 0.40% is a reasonable allowance to add for provision Suds and attenuation

Energy Policy. As this is a new requirement there is no historic information available to assess the cost impact. We arrived at our assessment based on a review of several publications- Zero Carbon Hub in partnership with Sweett- “Cost analysis of Achieving Zero Carbon Standard” published February 2014 and also published in Building Magazine dated 7th February 2014 and “Greater London Housing Standards Review Viability Assessment “ by David Locke Associates, Hoare Lea and Gardiner and Theobald dated May 2015 From Sweett’s paper the average UK cost to achieve zero carbon is circa £3100 per unit (based on an average of houses and apartments at 2016 price levels) and when you add a London regional weighting this is circa £3900 per unit for London which equates to circa 2% mark up on the average rates. When you consider the development corporation is within Greater London in our opinion a mark -up of 2.5% would appear appropriate to achieve the required CO2 reduction

The Element Energy/ Davis Langdon study of August 2013 predicted a cost of circa in 2016 of £4,000 per unit for 35% and £6,000 for 45% and the costs above work out around £3,000 per unit for 35% and £3900 per unit for 45% so a little lower but at a similar level

LBTH Carbon Policy Evidence Base prepared by Etude on behalf of The London Borough of Tower Hamlets dated August 2016 indicate an extra cost of between 0.6-2.40% which is an average 1.5% on apartment developments dependant on height and density for achieving The London Plan assuming off site carbon contributions

In considering the above we would recommend an addition of circa 2.50% to the base cost

BREEAM excellent- The cost of achieving BREEAM excellent on commercial type buildings should in our opinion be based on the 2014 BRE / Sweet Group study at circa 1% additional cost

We are of the opinion other policies may require contributions from a developer but this can be dealt with in other ways via Section 106 or CIL

We enclose a spreadsheet setting out the recommended rates and effect of policies which is attached
