1. What is the Statement of Community Involvement?

1.1 Our Statement of Community Involvement sets out how and when we will involve the community in the alteration and development of town planning documents and applications for planning permission. This is to ensure that we carry out effective community involvement in the planning process. This is a legal (statutory) document that must be complied with by all planning processes including the process of agreeing planning documents and making decisions on planning applications.

1.2 Please note that this is not our general statement of our policy for community involvement in a wider sense and that we refer mainly to our duties as a Local Planning Authority under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 and other planning legislation. Our community involvement can include our choice of provision of information, consultation, participation and partnership working. Each of these depends on the purpose of communicating and the level of feedback required. These are explained in more detail in section 4.

1.3 We have set out a number of priorities for consultation on planning documents and planning applications in table 7 (page 15).

1.4 Our priorities are for all Southwark residents, groups, businesses, statutory organisations and anyone who has an interest in planning whether they are adults, children, young people, refugees, asylum seekers and so on. We will implement these priorities and this Statement of Community Involvement when consulting on planning documents and applications. We will make changes as we learn from the experience of implementing the Statement of Community Involvement. We will carry out an annual review through the Annual Monitoring Report.

1.5 We have developed this Statement of Community Involvement with the help of many local people, businesses, voluntary and community organisations, councillors, statutory organisations and others. Thank you very much to everyone who has been involved.
2. What is planning?

2.1 The Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 introduced a new type of plan to control the use and development of land called a Local Development Framework. This will replace the system of Unitary Development Plans that was set up as part of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990. The Local Development Framework (www.southwark.gov.uk/LDF) may be seen as a folder containing a number of documents. These documents will be spatial rather than purely land use plans. Traditionally land use planning has focused on regulating and controlling how land is used. Spatial planning through Local Development Frameworks goes beyond this to take account of the plans and strategies of other agencies not traditionally involved in the land use planning system but who also have an impact on spatial development.

2.2 These include for example our employment and enterprise strategies, housing strategy, transport local implementation plan and most importantly, the sustainable community strategy, Southwark 2016. Our planning documents in the Local Development Framework can now draw these strategies together to create a comprehensive approach to physical, social and economic regeneration and crucially, to help make it happen. Our SCI provides a framework for consultation and community engagement which will therefore lie at the heart of regeneration in Southwark.

2.3 Our Local Development Framework contains development plan documents, supplementary planning documents, the Statement of Community Involvement, the Annual Monitoring Report and the local development scheme. Details are provided in table 2 and our agreement is set out in table 3.

2.4 We consider planning applications through the development control process. We base these decisions on guidance set out in the Local Development Framework. A developer or resident needs to submit planning applications to us when they would like to carry out development such as new buildings or changes to buildings, spaces, pathways etc. Development is defined as ‘any building, engineering, mining or other operations in, on or under land, or the making of any material change in the use of any building or other land’.

2.5 The statutory or legal requirements for the types of development that do or do not need planning permission are set out in the General Permitted Development Order 1995 Schedule 2 (http://www.opsi.gov.uk/si/si1995/Uksi_19950418_en_4.htm#IDANND3D).

2.6 We make decisions on applications in line with the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Section 38(6). ‘If regard is to be had to the development plan for the purpose of any determination to be made under the planning Acts the determination must be made in accordance with the plan unless material considerations indicate otherwise.’ There are a number of ways that decisions are taken as set out in table 3.
2.7 We set out our basic planning processes for policy documents in table 3 and on planning applications in tables 4 and 5.

2.8 We set out the detailed list of consultation methods that we carry out on planning documents and planning applications in appendix A.
Table 2 – Local Development plan documents

Development plan documents
We usually base planning decisions on these documents. We adopted/agreed these at the Council Assembly. Council Assembly is a monthly meeting of all 63 elected councillors chaired by the Mayor of Southwark. Council Assembly approves overall planning policy framework which includes all development plan documents. These documents are independently examined by a planning inspector and we need to carry out extensive community involvement. Our documents include;

- A core strategy setting out the vision, objectives and core policies of the Local Planning Authority which is us in our role as a decision maker on planning issues;
- Site specific allocations of land; Area action plans;
- Themed documents such as housing or employment; and
- A proposals map setting out policies and site allocations pictorially.

These Development Plan Documents together with the London Plan (which is sometimes called the spatial development strategy) prepared by the Mayor of London form the statutory development plan and must be taken into account by us in planning decisions (they are often referred to as having the most weight as when weighing up the issues, we consider information in these documents to be the most important). This is because we make decisions on applications in line with the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Section 38(6) which says: ‘If regard is to be had to the development plan for the purpose of any determination to be made under the planning Acts the determination must be made in accordance with the plan unless material considerations indicate otherwise.’

Find these at http://www.southwark.gov.uk/YourServices/planningandbuildingcontrol/planningpolicy/localdevelopmentframework/

Supplementary planning documents
Our development plan documents are explained in more detail in supplementary planning documents. We expand upon policies such as transport or section 106 planning obligations. Also we will provide more detail on planning for areas such as a conservation area in Bankside or a large site. These are agreed for consultation by the Individual Decision Maker. Individual Decision Maker (IDM) is a decision making process whereby individual Executive members are able to take decisions on areas that fall within their responsibility in much the same way that decisions are taken by the Executive as a whole. The final document is agreed by the Council Executive. Council Executive is the leader and deputy leader of the Council and eight other Councillors each with a special ‘portfolio’ of responsibility. It meets regularly to decide on the running of the Council. Portfolio holders are called Individual Decision Makers and make recommendations to approve development plan documents to go to Council Assembly. The Executive can also adopt other key planning policy documents such as supplementary planning documents. Executive members may make decisions on their own in certain circumstances. Supplementary planning documents are not independently examined, but we need to carry out community involvement and we need to take this into account.

Find these at http://www.southwark.gov.uk/Uploads/FILE_34702.doc

The Statement of Community Involvement (this document)
We set out how and when we will consult on planning documents and planning applications. This is agreed by the Council Executive. Also a planning inspector carries out an independent examination and we carry out extensive community involvement.

The Annual Monitoring Report
We provide information on progress in implementing the above; the impacts of policies; when we make development control decisions; and compliance with the Statement of Community Involvement. This forms the basis for our review and improvements of policies, the Statement of Community Involvement and decisions about planning applications. The Annual Monitoring Report is consulted on each year. It is then agreed by the Individual Decision Maker and is examined by the Government.

The Head of Planning and Transport decides whether development should be allowed on behalf of us (the council, described below:

Decision maker – planning committee
Planning committee is an all-party committee of councillors who decide on major applications for planning permission, conservation areas and comment on all planning policy documents. Major applications are 10 or more housing dwellings or over 1000 square metres of any other uses such as offices or community buildings.
Planning committee needs to make the decision on the planning application if:

There are 3 or more objections;
There are 1 or more objections on a council application;
The development creates 50 or more housing units except where the decision is a straightforward refusal;
The development creates more than 3500m2 of floor space except where they are straightforward refusals;
We are recommending development for approval that is significantly different to what is allowed in the Local Development Framework;
The ward councilor asks for it to be decided by planning committee. This has to be agreed by the chair;
It is a council application except for reserved matters, or minor developments with no objections.
A legal agreement does not meet the Local Development Framework policy requirements;
An Environmental Impact Assessment is required;
It is on Metropolitan Open Land;
The community council was inquorate so that there were not enough people to make the decision;
It is on contaminated land defined in the Environmental Protection Act 1990;
The Strategic Director of Regeneration and Neighbourhoods thinks it is strategic;
There is an important impact on one or more neighbouring community councils

Table 5 Planning applications – basic process

1. We receive the application
2. We validate the application
3. We identify consultees
4. We give the planning application to a case officer
5. We send out consultation letters to identified consultees
   - Our Case Officer assesses applications
     - We carry out site visits if this is needed
     - Our case officer assesses site implications
     - Our case officer erects site notices
6. We put the application on the weekly list and arrange press notices
7. We consider the consultation responses along with planning policies and all other material planning considerations.
8. Our case officer prepares a recommendations report. This includes a summary of the consultation and the responses.
9. Decision (member or delegation, please refer to table 3)
   - We send notification to people who have responded to the consultation after a decision is made. If the decision is by planning committee objectors will be sent letters to inform them of the committee date and location of reports 5 working days before the meeting. Targets for this process are 8 weeks for minor applications and 13 weeks for major applications.
3. Why should we involve the community in planning?

3.1 We need to carry out effective community involvement to find out the aspirations of people who live, learn, visit and work in the borough. In Southwark we researched the community’s aspirations for the Community strategy Southwark 2016. The consultation preparation process led to a vision for Southwark as, ‘a better place to live, to learn, to work and to have fun’. We have set out 5 priorities and 7 core values as a focus to achieve this in table 6. We have set out community involvement processes to achieve this in table 7. More information on Southwark’s Community strategy Southwark 2016 can be found at http://www.southwark.gov.uk/YourCouncil/SouthwarkAlliance/WhatSouthwark2016.html.

3.2 Our aim for this Statement of Community Involvement is to give Southwark’s diverse communities real opportunities to influence the way that the community strategy Southwark 2016 and the Local Development Framework shape the borough. With good planning, we can plan for appropriate buildings and supporting infrastructure such as schools, shops and public transport in the right place at the right time. According to the government, poor planning can result in run down town centres, unsafe housing and a lack of schools and community facilities along with loss of open space (PPS1 paragraph 1, 2005). If we plan well, we can make a positive difference to people’s lives creating jobs and homes and opportunities; while at the same time protecting places people value such as open spaces and historical buildings. Whether a development is a success often depends how well we understand and provide for the needs and aspirations of the community.

3.3 National planning laws set out the minimum standards for public consultation. We generally go beyond the minimum. This is important because our communities have extremely diverse needs and aspirations. When we hear and take into account views from Southwark’s diverse communities, we can make the process of planning for the future richer and more creative.

3.4 To reinforce this, we need to evaluate all planning documents and major development proposals by carefully considering the different ways people experience impacts. Over the past three years, the council has developed an equality, diversity and social cohesion framework. This sets out a commitment to make Southwark a place where diversity is valued, where there is equality of opportunity, and where communities and individuals can thrive and achieve their maximum potential. The Equalities Scheme 2005 – 2008 is an extension of that vision, providing the mechanism for making those commitments real. The scheme is not a stand-alone document. It reflects the council’s priorities and sets out how it intends to review services, functions and policies to ensure that the way the council carries out work maximises opportunity for all. Special attention must be given to the equalities target groups recognised by Southwark in the Equalities Scheme as their issues can otherwise be marginalized. Our Equality Scheme covers race and ethnicity, gender, disability, sexual orientation, faith and belief and age. These are our Equalities Target Groups. Equalities Impact Assessments covering all these six areas are evaluated by our Equalities and Diversity Panel and their advice is provided to officers and decision makers. In addition Community Statements and Equalities Impact Assessments are included with reports that go to decision makers to ensure that they are aware of issues and impacts and can identify how actions can and will be taken to help eliminate discrimination, promote equality of opportunities and good race relations when they are making decisions.
This is required by law in the Race Relations Amendment Act 2000, the Disabilities Discrimination Act 2005 and is reflected through Southwark’s Equalities Scheme. More information on Southwark’s Equalities Scheme, Equalities Impact Assessments and Lord Ouseley’s report of the Independent Review of our Equality and Diversity Framework can be found at www.southwark.gov.uk/YourCouncil/Equalities.

3.5 Our analysis of Southwark’s diverse communities and the barriers that they can face along with how we will try to overcome them is set out in appendix D. We have used these measures as the basis for deciding the most useful consultation methods.

Table 7 Priorities for community involvement
The government’s tests for soundness and the council’s priorities and core values from the Community Strategy Southwark 2016 have been put together to set out a set of priorities for community involvement.

1. We will meet statutory legal requirements as listed in tables 8, 10, 11, 12 and appendix E.
2. We will give clarity about consultation type based on the size and impact of the plan or application. We are aiming to go beyond statutory requirements. We set out ways of doing this in tables 8 to 11 and appendices A and C-E.
3. We will give clarity about resources needed for each consultation - For planning policy documents we will put this in a consultation report that will be agreed by the decision maker before consultation on the document. For planning applications we will follow the guidelines in table 11.
4. Community involvement and cohesion – we will make sure that decisions are developed and made with local people. We will tell them how to get involved and let them know how their involvement has influenced decisions. We will measure our success by numbers and diversity of consultees and respondees and by surveys to assess our methods.
5. We will promote equality for all and respond to the needs of our many diverse communities. We must consult groups that do not usually get involved. We will monitor consultation exercises for the Equalities Target Groups; age, gender, ethnicity, religion/belief, sexual orientation and disability. We will report this in the consultation statement to the decision maker.
6. We will invest in young people. We will measured success by age and report this to the decision maker in the consultation statement.
7. We will be open, fair and transparent when involving people and making decisions. Tables 8 to 11 and appendices A to G will be monitored in the Annual Monitoring Report.
8. We will make sure that social, economic and environmental factors are taken into account for sustainable decisions. We will assess this through Sustainability Assessments for planning applications and Strategic Environmental Assessments for planning policy documents. We will report findings to decision makers. Our reports relating to Strategic Environmental Assessments will be available for comment with the planning policy documents.
9. We will take decisions based on quality of decisions rather than just quantity. We will monitor this in the Annual Monitoring Report. We will measure participant satisfaction with the methodologies in table 8 to 11 and appendices A to G.; and
10. We will make sure people know how their involvement has been taken into account. We will feed back how much their involvement is appreciated as set out section 5.
4. How will consultation be carried out?

4.1 We have set out our priorities for community involvement in table 7. We use these as the basis for setting out and monitoring consultation plans before we carry out consultation. Our additional consultation is more than the legal minimum. The amount will depend on the scale, impact and complexity of the policy or application. We will use a variety of methods including information giving, consultation, participation and partnership working to consult effectively:

4.2 Information giving is when we inform people about planning applications or planning documents. This could be about:
- The services available to help them get involved;
- Plans to involve them in decision making and consultations; and
- The plans of other organisations such as the Mayor.

4.3 We have set out details of how to obtain information in tables 8 to 11. We try to make this easy to understand by the group of people that it is intended to reach. We do the following to achieve this:
- Provide written material and verbal presentations in clear and plain English;
- Avoid acronyms, abbreviations and jargon and provide definitions for technical issues;
- Make reading material available on request in large fonts and braille or audiotape; and
- Include details of our interpreter and translation service for the main languages identified by us, in all written material.

4.4 Consultation is where we are seeking opinions from the community on a clearly defined issue. The Government requirements (statutory consultation) and some of Southwark’s additional consultation methods are set out in tables 10 and 11 and appendix A. We can make consultation more inclusive by:
- Trying to find out if there are any special needs that may be provided to help everyone take part in the meeting, workshop etc before the event;
- Using translators and interpreters where appropriate;
- Providing location maps of venues showing main access points for disabled people, access by public transport and parking provision;
- Making sure needs are catered for at the beginning of events;
- Arranging seating to enable comfort for those with restricted mobility;
- Checking all venues have an access statement. Requirements are in our venue accessibility standards;
- Trying to hold the event on the ground floor. Also making lifts available for a wheelchair and carer if higher floors are used;
- Explaining emergency evacuation at the start of the event;
- Reimbursing for transportation, carers and childcare in appropriate circumstances.
4.5 Promoting participation is where we involve other stakeholders in the preparation of documents, proposals or planning applications. This enables people to have more influence as they are involved from an early stage before options are created. Participation will follow the guidelines in the Southwark compact which can be found at www.southwarkalliance.org.uk/documents/index.htm. The Southwark Compact is a shared set of principles between statutory agencies and voluntary, community and faith organisations in Southwark. It makes a number of statements about funding, community involvement and policy development processes that affect the voluntary sector.

4.6 Partnership working is where we lead on, or are involved with other strategic and local networks, groups, residents and businesses on a project or programme such as the regeneration of an area. The Southwark Alliance www.southwarkalliance.org.uk is our Local Strategic Partnership which is made up of us, statutory organisations (such as health, police and schools) with business, voluntary and faith groups. It sets the vision for the borough in the community strategy Southwark 2016, leads and monitors implementation, and targets improvements in the most deprived neighbourhoods.

4.7 Detailed consideration of these methods and when they will be used is set out in appendices A, C and E.

4.8 We take a targeted approach to community involvement in planning policy document preparation. We outline how consultation will be carried out on each document. We include the techniques that we use and the audiences that we target. We often take consultation plans to community councils and the planning committee for comment before they are taken to IDM or the Executive for final approval.
Table 8 Information provision is available at:

Our offices
We are open to the public at Chiltern House, Portland Street, SE17 2ES between 9am and 5pm from Monday to Friday for documents, information and advice both in person and by telephone. A dedicated professional planning officer can provide advice on applications between 10am and 4pm. A professional planning officer for policy is also available. We make all applications and planning documents available for viewing. You can make appointments for assistance on particular sites.

On the Internet
- Our website: www.southwark.gov.uk/YourServices/planningandbuildingcontrol gives you general information on planning in Southwark. This includes all of our planning policy documents, decisions on applications and guidance to help people make an application for planning permission,
- The planning portal: http://www.planningportal.gov.uk/ is a central government web site which provides information and advice on general planning matters.

For applicants
We provide advice on policy and applications for applicants before and after applications are submitted. We also provide advice when appropriate and when resources allow we attend meetings. We encourage these before applications are submitted. They are essential for large developments by appointment, by letter, by telephone and by email.

For groups and individuals within Southwark and other areas of impact
- Specific assistance on advice on policy and applications is provided for the general public once applications are submitted. Advice is available when appropriate and when resources allow at meetings, by appointment, by letter, by telephone and by email;
- Presentations to our 8 community councils, planning committee and the Equalities and Diversity Panel on all planning documents as part of consultations. The Equalities and Diversity Panel is a group of community members who meet monthly to discuss and review our activities and policies;
- Ward councillors can provide advice by letter, email or surgeries;
- A list of current planning applications is updated weekly. This is available free of change to view and download on our website and is available to view at reception at our offices at Chiltern. The list can also be requested from the planning team on 020 7525 5403. There is a fee of £151 per year;
- The Willowbrook Centre is an independent planning advice centre for Southwark that is able to offer free professional advice to groups and individuals who can not afford to pay for private consultants;
- Posters and information publicising consultations on large applications and planning documents in local places such as libraries, GPs; and
- If you think that information is being withheld you can request information formally through the Freedom of Information process as set out in section 9.
Table 10 Consultation methods – Planning Policy

Statutory consultation
We meet legal requirements by:
• Carrying out a mailout to statutory consultees listed in appendix E;
• Displaying documents at our offices;
• Putting an advertisement in the local press; and
• Putting the document onto our website.
(T&CP (LD) (Eng) Regs 2004 Reg. 26).

Additional consultation timeframe
We have found that six weeks is too short for planning policy documents. We will carry out an additional six weeks of informal consultation before the formal 6 week period to make sure there is enough time. This means that we will carry out a 3 month consultation period on all planning policy documents. The only exception is sustainability appraisal scoping reports for DPDs and SPDs. We will consult statutory consultees for a 5 week period because they are setting out ideas rather than providing a policy. We will make scoping reports available to interested stakeholders.

We will provide information at each consultation stage:
• We will send a letter or email (depending on the consultee’s preference) setting out the consultee’s reference number, information about the document, the process for adopting (agreeing) the document, the stage in the process that is being consulted upon and contact details for further information;
• Our letters will include the website addresses of both the document and a list of consultees on each document;
• We will provide a paper copy of the document. If we make changes these will be marked up on the document. We will include a bibliography of sources with website links;
• After the first stage of consultation, we will provide a paper copy or details of how to obtain the consultee responses that have been made to consultations and officer’s recommendations for members;
• We will provide details of how to obtain the consultation plan setting out how consultation will be carried out based on tables 7 to11 and appendices A and C;
• After the first stage of consultation, details of how to obtain a consultation report setting out information about previous consultation and summarising the issues raised and how they have been addressed;
• We will provide details of how to obtain the Equalities Impact Assessment which reviews the impacts of the document on Southwark’s diverse communities;
• We will provide details of how to find the Strategic Environmental Assessment/Sustainability Appraisal which reviews the impacts of the document on social, environmental and economic issues.
Table 11 - Consultation methods – Development control

Planning applications (unless specified below) including those requiring an environmental statement, those that are a departure from the development plan, major applications (over 14 housing units and 1000sqm for commercial buildings), also those requiring conservation area and Listed Building Consent

Statutory consultation

We are required to:

- Notify neighbours by letter. We give a period of 21 days for comments beginning on the date on the letter;
- Notify statutory consultees. We send a letter to those listed in appendix E giving a period of 21 days for comments beginning on the date on the letter. Bodies such as Natural England will be allowed a longer period of time to comment on applications where this is prescribed by legislation;
- Put an advertisement in the local press. We give 14 days for comment beginning on the day of publication of the notice; and
- Display a site notice near the site. This contains the address or location of the proposed development; name of the council; description of the development; address of the council; and date. We give a period of 21 days for comment beginning with the date of service.

Where an application is a departure from the development plan we will make this clear in our letter, site notice and advertisement.

Additional consultation

In special circumstances the following are provided:

- We send a letter to a wide catchment area containing the following: the case officer’s name and contact details in the right corner; the reference number allocated to the application; the location or address of the proposal; a description of what is proposed; where the plans are available; and the length of time for comment, meetings to advise the applicant whether the development meets our requirements;
- We encourage developers to carry out consultations with communities for major schemes before the application is submitted. Further guidance on pre-application consultation is set out in appendix B.

Our applications

Council applications need to provide a consultation report setting out pre-application consultation with the planning team and stakeholders prior to submission of an application.

Planning applications for minor development where there is no direct effect on individual adjoining occupiers, planning applications involving alterations, additions or demolition works and planning applications for significant change of use or residential conversion of premises.

We carry out statutory consultation - Site notice or neighbour consultation for 21 days.

Tree applications

We carry out statutory consultation – If there is going to be removal of a tree public, notice in the press, a site notice and notification to neighbouring land owners. We send letter/s to neighbouring landowner/s for applications that involve pruning.
Planning applications made to regularise a situation after enforcement investigations

Statutory – none
Additional – We send a letter to the person(s) whose complaint(s) have led to the enforcement investigation. We also carry out any other consultations that would normally be required in connection with the type of development.

Public right of way and advertisements

Statutory - there is no statutory consultation procedure for these types of application.
Additional – we put up a site notice and further consultation.

Approval of reserved matters specified in an outline permission, approval of details, detailed (requested by conditions), and removal or alteration of conditions, observations to neighbouring authorities.

Statutory and additional consultation - there is no statutory or additional consultation procedures for these types of application.

Telecommunications masts

Certain categories of telecommunications masts do not require planning permission but we are notified of proposals through a ‘prior approval’ procedure. We may only comment on the siting and design. However, we will carry out consultation in the same way as for applications for planning permission.

Breaches of planning control

These are dealt with through the council’s power of enforcement. Further information can be accessed on the council’s website at:
http://www.southwark.gov.uk/YourServices/planningandbuildingcontrol/planningapplications /workscarriedoutwithoutpermission.html
5. How will consultee’s views be taken into account and fed back?

5.1 We send out an acknowledgement letter within 10 working days of receipt of comments on planning documents and applications. We prepare comments on each response and we provide these for the decision maker as part of the report for decision. We will consult on revised documents and significant changes to planning applications. When we consider a document or application at the planning committee and/or Executive, consultees and ward councillors may speak at the meeting when they have a view which is different to the planning officer’s report, if the chair decides that this would be useful for the decision makers. You can find this at www.southwark.gov.uk/YourCouncil/AgendasMinutes/PlanningCommitteeMeetings. We will advise everyone who has made comments of the committee date, the availability of agendas, reports and minutes and about the arrangements for public speaking at the meetings. You can find agendas, reports and minutes are at: http://www.southwark.gov.uk/YourCouncil/AgendasMinutes/

5.2 We need to take into account consultee responses as we need to weigh up all of the different views and information. The decision needs to be in accordance with national guidance, the London Plan and the Local Development Framework. We make decisions on applications in line with the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Section 38(6) which says:

‘If regard is to be had to the development plan for the purpose of any determination to be made under the planning Acts the determination must be made in accordance with the plan unless material considerations indicate otherwise.’

We can take other information such as local opinions into account (this is called a material consideration) but decisions must always be in line with the guidance. As there will often be a number of different perspectives on the same document or planning application, not everyone will always be satisfied with the decision.

5.3 We send the decision to everyone that has responded to the consultation for planning documents and applications. We inform the applicant of the decision on planning applications. If an application is refused the applicant has the right to appeal against this decision or against conditions attached to the application. If an applicant appeals against a decision made by us or conditions attached to the application, we will inform all of the people that were consulted and who objected to the application.
6. What are the resource implications?

6.1 Consultation and community involvement on planning policy documents will be carried out by the Planning and Transportation Division.

6.4 Further advice and partnership working
Existing liaison networks and other departments will be used to ensure that there is co-ordination within the council and that groups, businesses and residents are contacted as effectively as possible. The Willowbrook Centre and other groups will be funded to deliver specific consultation programmes. The costs of delivering the Statement of Community Involvement will be met within the Regeneration and Neighbourhood Department’s budget.
7. How will monitoring and feedback

7.1 We will base monitoring of the effectiveness of consultation on planning on whether the consultation exercises on planning documents and applications have followed the requirements set out in the Statement of Community Involvement listed in table 7. These reviews may lead to revisions of the Statement of Community Involvement for improvements to be made.

7.2 If the SCI requires updating this will be brought forward in compliance with statutory consultation procedures and associated guidance.
8. What is the status of the this document?

8.1 The Statement of Community Involvement (SCI) was agreed/adopted on January 29 2008. If forms part of the Local Development Framework for Southwark.

Appendix B: Advice on pre-application consultation

The benefit

We expect developers to carry out consultation on Major developments before the application is submitted. We think that this provides a number of benefits for the community, the developer and us. These include:

- Enabling issues and problems to be raised and addressed at an early stage
- Helping to meet the needs and aspirations of the community
- Leading to more sustainable and better designed buildings and places
- Acting as a process for resolving problems and avoiding objections to the application;
- Ensuring an inclusive and transparent approach;
- Resulting in better quality applications.

We will expect developers to provide us with a:
- Design and access statement
- Planning obligations statement;
- Sustainability checklist.

Approach

We can not prescribe how developers undertake pre-application consultation. However, Appendix C sets out a number of community involvement techniques and indicates where we think these are appropriate for consultation on major applications under the column headed ‘suitable use’. Developers can contact us for further advice on pre-application consultation.

Developers should submit to us, as part of the planning application, a consultation statement setting out the methods of community involvement that were used, details of the representations received and how these have been considered and reflected in the submitted application. We will ensure that this information is reflected in the committee report.
Appendix C: Consultation Methods

The table describes community involvement techniques set out in tables 8 to 11 of the Statement of Community Involvement. The strengths, weaknesses and the resource implications are evaluated. We have not provided an exhaustive list and we will try new methods out if they are successful we will include them in future documents.

Strengths

- Planning application Site Notices: Identifies an action affecting a specific site or area. Targets local people affected. An effective way in which to raise awareness and inform a large number of people about upcoming consultation. Helps to give the community ownership of the proposals that have been submitted and can help to produce a scheme through a workshop environment.

Weaknesses

- Planning application Site Notices: Site notices may be removed or vandalized. Requires people to walk past the site to view the information. May not encourage participation as easily ignored and may not meet the particular needs of recipients. Language or format may limit understanding by some minority groups. Appendix D: Barriers to involving groups and ways to overcome them

We need to take into account the important roles played by the different groups and communities within Southwark to find out the best ways of involving people in planning. Often there are reasons that a particular group is not consulted on planning issues, we will try to find these out and will target consultation to overcome any barriers. We will work with established networks and partnerships to try to make sure that people are being involved effectively.

The table below gives information on groups that have been identified and ways in which we are trying to overcome barriers to involvement. The groups within each category will be very diverse, however they have been categorised within the equalities target groups where relevant to ensure that issues relevant to these groups of; faith/belief, age, race, gender, sexual orientation and disability are highlighted.

This is not an exhaustive list and we will introduce new community involvement methods as we learn from experience and feedback.

<td>The voluntary sector in Southwark is made up of around 18,000 individuals delivering services through 1,600 organisations, groups and projects. In 2001-2 Southwark Council supported around 300 voluntary and community groups with an investment of around £10m in grant-aid, service agreements and contracts.</td>
<td>These barriers are generic barriers faced by many voluntary groups. Need for prior knowledge and experience; Jargon and legal terms; Other funding commitments and priorities than planning; Lack of time; and Knowledge of how and where to access information.</td>
<td>Provision of information and training about planning focused on these groups; Ensure that a range of community involvement methods are used that are accessible to these groups; Make sure that groups are added on to relevant mailing lists; and Hold/attend meetings at appropriate times that are accessible to these groups. Translators and interpreters to be used where appropriate.</td>

Appendix F: Glossary of terms

Annual Monitoring Report: A report on the borough’s progress in preparing planning policy documents (as set out in the Local Development Scheme – see below) and on changes taking place in the borough and whether the council’s objectives are being met.

Approval of details: When planning permission is granted by the council, there may be certain details of the development that have not been fully provided by the developer or agreed by the council. This will mean that a further application must be made so that these details can be considered and approved. For example, planning permission might be given for a building when the council has only considered its shape and size and what it is to be used for. Its design and the materials to be used or where car parking spaces will be laid out might be among the things that are left for a later approval of details.

Area action plans: A Development Plan Document which provides a detailed planning framework for an area where significant change or conservation is required.

Certificate of lawfulness: A certificate that is issued by the council to formally confirm that planning permission is not required in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995.

Community Strategy Southwark 2016: Councils are required by the Local Government Act 2000 to prepare a community strategy which sets out how they intend to improve the social, environmental and economic well being of their communities.

Compliant: To be in accordance with a policy or a rule. For example, if a proposed development meets the council’s requirements for providing affordable housing it is said to be compliant with our affordable housing policies.

Conservation area: An area identified for its special architectural or historic interest so that its character or appearance can be preserved or enhanced. The council may have more power to prevent or control changes to buildings or works such as the removal of trees in these areas.

Conservation consent: Outside conservation areas most non-residential buildings could be demolished without needing consent from the council. Inside conservation areas consent is always required from the local planning authority before demolition. Where it is required, carrying out demolition work without this consent is a criminal offence.

Council Assembly: A monthly meeting of all 63 elected councillors chaired by the Mayor of Southwark.

Delegated powers: Many decisions made by the council are made by elected councillors, for example at meetings of the Executive or the Planning committee. Councillors may give, or ‘delegate’, the power to make certain decisions to senior officers. Certain officers have delegated powers to make decisions on applications for planning permission in some circumstances.

Demographic data: Information on the population living in a particular area such as how many people there are of each sex and in each age group. Much of this data is obtained from the national Census.
held every 10 years. Information that is available may include data on race, religion, political preferences, spending preferences, family size, car ownership and many other factors.

Development control: A term which refers to the whole process by which we receive and decide about applications for planning permission for development within the borough.

Development Plan Document: This is a document produced by the council in consultation with the local community which outlines key planning policies and objectives. Development Plan Documents must undergo independent examination and we must provide strong community involvement during the document’s development or review.

Environmental statement: Some very major development proposals cannot be considered by the council until an environmental impact assessment has been carried out. In such cases, the applicant will be asked to provide an environmental statement when they apply for planning permission setting out what all of the likely environmental effects of the development will be and how they are going to be dealt with.

Equalities and Diversity Panel: A panel of community members set up by Southwark Council who meet monthly to discuss and review our activities and policies. Members are individuals from local organisations representing, among others, lesbian, gay and bisexual people, youth, women, elderly people, faith groups, people with disabilities and black and ethnic minority communities in Southwark.

Equalities Impact Assessment: As part of our commitments under the Race Relations Amendment Act 2000, we are required to assess how our policies, services and practices affect the local community across three overlapping areas of responsibility:

- The elimination of discrimination;
- The promotion of equality of opportunity; and
- The promotion of good race relations.

To do this we carry out Equality Impact Assessments to examine documents and policies where:

- The policy’s aims could conflict with the three areas of responsibility; or
- Aspects of the policy could contribute to inequality; or
- The policy will have a high impact upon the lives of local people; or
- There are particular communities/groups likely to have different needs/experiences/attitudes in relation to the policy.

The purpose of the appraisal is to assess whether a plan/policy has helped to meet our commitments under the Race Relations Amendment Act 2000. It also aims to identify areas for improvement and ensure that appropriate revisions are made to promote and support our corporate policies on equalities.

Equalities Target Groups: The six strands of equality are: age, disability, faith/belief, gender, sexual orientation and race. Since 2003 we have considered all of these areas when we assess the impact of services and policies on the community.

Executive: A committee of Southwark Council consisting of the leader and deputy leader of the Council and eight other councillors each with a special ‘portfolio’ of responsibility.
Individual decision making (IDM) is a council decision making process where individual Executive members are able to take decisions on areas that fall within their responsibility in much the same way that decisions are taken by the Executive as a whole.

Listed building: A building of special architectural or historic interest which has special protection by law as a result of it having been including on the list of such buildings. Listed buildings are graded I, II* or II with grade I being the highest. Listing of a building gives protection to the interior as well as the exterior, and any buildings or permanent structures attached to it or in the same building plot (e.g. in a garden attached to the building). English Heritage is responsible for designating buildings for listing in England.

Listed Building Consent: We require a special consent in addition to the usual planning permission for the demolition, in whole or in part of a listed building, or for any works of alteration or extension that would affect the character of the building.

Local Development Framework: Term used to describe the whole collection of documents which contains the council’s planning policies for the area. These will eventually replace the Unitary Development Plan and include:

- Development Plan Documents
- Supplementary Planning Documents
- Statement of Community Involvement
- Local Development Scheme
- Annual Monitoring Report
- Local Development Orders or Simplified Planning Zones that may be added

Local Development Plan documents: These include Development Plans Documents, the Statement of Community Involvement and Supplementary Planning Documents.

Local Development Scheme: Our three year timetable for the preparation, production, adoption and revision of the Local Development Framework. It will be monitored on an annual basis (see Annual Monitoring Report) and reviewed as required.

Local Strategic Partnership or LSP: Our partnership of individuals and organisations from the public, private, community and voluntary sector within a local authority area. This has the objective of improving people’s quality of life. Our Local Strategic Partnership is known as the Southwark Alliance.

Major developments: Applications for planning permission which go over any of the following limits are considered to be ‘major development’, residential or mixed-use development creating 10 or more dwellings, if that is known, or where the site area is 0.5 hectares or more. For other types of development, a major development is one where the floor space to be built is 1,000 square metres or more, or the site area is 1 hectare or more. (see also ‘Minor developments’ below)

Material consideration: Anything that the council as local planning authority should legitimately take into account in deciding a planning application or that a planning inspector should take into account on an appeal against a planning decision.
Minor developments: Applications for planning permission which are below the following limits are considered to be ‘minor development’

- Residential or mixed-use development creating less than 10 dwellings if that is known; or
- Where the site area is under 0.5 hectares
- For other types of development, a minor development is one where the floorspace to be built is less than 1,000 square metres or the site area is under 1 hectare

(see also ‘Major developments’ above)

Neighbouring land: At present there is no definition in law of neighbouring land, but we define this as:
Land adjacent to a common boundary of the application site; or Within 4 metres of the boundary of the application site (regardless as to whether or not it shares a common boundary with the application site);

Note: Should the nearest part of any neighbouring land be over 90 metres from the development in question then it is excluded from the above definition of neighbouring land.

Outline application: An application for planning permission to establish that a development is acceptable in principle, subject to subsequent approval of detailed matters. It is not possible to apply for outline planning permission for a change of use.

Planning committee: A council committee made up of councillors from all political parties who decide on major applications for planning permission, conservation areas and provide comments on all planning policy documents.

Planning permission: Formal approval sought from a council, often granted with conditions, allowing a proposal to change the use of or develop land and buildings to proceed. Permission may be sought in principle through outline planning applications, or be sought in detail through full planning applications.

Planning Policy Statement (PPS): The government sets out national planning policy which regional authorities such as the Mayor of London and local authorities such as Southwark must follow. National planning policy is set out in Planning Policy Statements. Previously there were documents referred to as Planning Policy Guidance (PPG) some of which are still valid.

Representation: Comments and feedback made in a formal manner during a statutory consultation period to a Local Development Framework document are referred to as representations.

Soundness: A Development Plan Document is considered sound if it is based upon good evidence and has been prepared in accordance with all the necessary procedures including the measures set out in the authority’s Statement of Community Involvement. When documents are being examined by planning inspectors they will apply certain tests of soundness which are set out in national guidance.

Southwark Alliance: The Local Strategic Partnership for the borough which brings together us, other statutory organisations (for health, the police, schools and employment) with voluntary, business, faith and community organisations.

Statement of Community Involvement: (this document). A document that sets out the way that we involve the local community in the preparation, alteration and review of all Local Development Plan Documents and in the determination of planning applications.
Statutory: Required by law (statute), usually through an Act of Parliament.

Statutory bodies: A government-appointed body set up to give advice and be consulted for comments upon development plans and planning applications affecting matters of public interest. Examples of statutory bodies include: English Heritage, Natural England, the Environment Agency, the Health & Safety Executive, Greater London Authority, Government Office for London and Sport England.

Supplementary Planning Document: This is a document produced by us in consultation with the local community. This expands upon and explains the policies or proposals that have been adopted in the Unitary Development Plan or in Development Plan Documents. They are not used to create completely new policies or change policies that have been adopted. Supplementary Planning Documents are not independently examined but need to undergo rigorous community involvement procedures.

Unitary Development Plan: The main plan adopted by us setting out its policies and proposals for the use and development of land. The Southwark Unitary Development Plan (The ‘Southwark Plan’) was adopted in July 2007. However, this type of plan is being phased out and replaced by a new style. Local Development Framework under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004.

Willowbrook Centre: An independent planning advice centre for Southwark that offers free professional advice to groups and individuals.
