Canada Water Town Centre

Action Plan

The Canada Water Town Centre Action Plan sets out key areas that local people, businesses, community groups and other local organisations want to see improved in Canada Water town centre.

Town centres across Southwark are unique and essential pillars of our community and their appearance is central to the way people feel about where they live. As part of our five-year borough plan, Southwark 2030, town centres play a crucial role. They are essential to delivering our goal of a strong and fair economy where everyone benefits from the borough's economic strength and growth.

High streets and town centres face considerable challenges including the cost-of-living crisis and the rise of online shopping which threaten small and independent businesses. This action plan outlines how we will make our town centres cleaner, safer and more vibrant places for people to visit and shop, and where businesses can rely on consistent and sufficient footfall to be successful.

Councillor John Batteson, Cabinet Member for Climate Emergency, Jobs & Business

What do we know about Canada Water?

Canada Water is an area of the Docklands. It is named after a freshwater lake and wildlife refuge, but the name is also commonly used to refer to the surrounding areas including the old Surrey Docks (now known as Surrey Quays) and Rotherhithe, a relatively new residential neighbourhood and surrounded by historic riverside development. Around 28,600 people live in the neighbourhood. Canada Water is home to the Surrey Quays shopping centre, a busy destination for shopping and entertainment, with shopping parades also at Albion Street and Lower Road.

The area is being developed to create a new destination around the Canada Water basin. Its new chapter will include affordable housing including new council homes, a new high street and town square offering affordable shopping and new places to eat and drink, flexible workspace, 12 acres of new public realm and a new 3.5 acre park. The first buildings are complete and include 79 council homes near Russia Dock Woodland, The Founding residential apartments, and the Three Deal Porters workspace centre.

What is the vision for Canada Water?

The new town centre will be delivered over the next twelve years on 53 acres. It will offer a new leisure centre, affordable shopping opportunities including independent shops, places to eat and drink, and opportunities for daytime and evening events and activities. It will also provide new education opportunities and health services. The plans are set out in the Masterplan which sets out the vision for the area.

Throughout the development and beyond, it is important that the existing businesses along Lower Road and Albion Street are supported. We know that a key concern for local people and businesses is the significant congestion in the area and we are working hard to find a solution. We're also aware that people are concerned about safety and incidents of phone theft, particularly in the shopping centre. Issues arising from the development move quickly, however this town centre action plan brings together the work being undertaken across the local area more broadly to address the challenges facing the town centre and to ensure that the existing town centre thrives and serves its local community.
